Texan Killed At Weirton In Truck Crash

Brake Failure Seen As Rig Runs Away And Strikes Wall

WEIRTON — Marvin H. Campbell, 42, of Paris, Tex., was killed Saturday night at 8:40 when his loaded trailer truck crashed into a retaining wall at the foot of the long Route 22 hill.

West Virginia State Police said there apparently was a brake failure on the truck, which ran out of control part way down the mile-long hill inside the city limits.

The victim was pronounced dead on arrival at the Weirton General Hospital. He was identified from his operator's license.

The truck was loaded with 31,000 pounds of drilling equipment. It apparently went out of control because of brake failure partway down the long hill, and the driver was killed as it slammed into a retaining wall after attempting a right turn.

State Police said skid marks measured 148 feet. The driver died of a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Trooper D. L. Lake said the bills of lading indicated the truck, owned by the Wales Trucking Co., was bound from DuBois, Pa., to Atlantic City, Wyo.

4 District Teen-Agers Injured In Car Crash

Four area teen-agers, including two from East Liverpool, were injured when their auto crashed over an embankment Sunday afternoon, the Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported today.

The injured include a Negley woman who sustained a possible fracture of the right leg and contusions when the door of her husband's car came open and the car

Laos Rivals Get Proposal For Coalition

Negotiations Asked At Geneva Meeting On Asian Troubles

GENEVA (AP) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodian chief of state, today pursued the role of peacemaker for Laos and invited the three rival Laotian princes to negotiate in Geneva for a coalition government.

Sihanouk issued the invitations through the separate Laotian delegations sent to the 14-nation conference that opened last week to pacify and neutralize the strife-plagued country of Southeast Asia.

The three princes involved are Boun Oum, recognized by the West and Laotian King Savang Vathana as premier; Prince Souvanna Phouma, so-called neutralist leader recognized as the legal premier by the Soviet bloc, and Prince Souphanouvong, head of the Communist-guided Pathet Lao forces.

Efforts to get the three Laotian factions to combine into one coalition government were begun several days ago in Laos itself in talks behind the Pathet Lao lines. These negotiations, in the village of Ban Namone, have stalled.

The Cambodian prince and a number of other delegates at the conference regard a coalition government as essential for any long-range settlement of Laotian problems.

The Geneva conference resumes this afternoon amid persistent reports that Boun Oum's government soon might order its delegate in Geneva to join in the parley.

A spokesman for the Vientiane delegation said Sunday night his group had received no instructions yet to end its boycott of the conference. The Vientiane government objected because the delegations from the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels and Prince Souvanna Phouma — neither of which represents a legal government.

Montgomery Violence Subsides

Washington Set To Send U.S. Troops

U.S. Officials Await Results Of National Guard Rule In City

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government today was reported ready to use any means available—including a move-in of Army regulars if necessary—to end race riots and maintain order in Montgomery, Ala.

But officials brushed aside all questions on this score as they waited to see the result of Alabama Gov. John Patterson's declaration of martial law in the Montgomery area.

The governor called out a detachment of state National Guardsmen late Sunday night after a week of violent mob action resulting from attempts by white and Negro students from out-of-state to break racial segregation on interstate passenger buses.

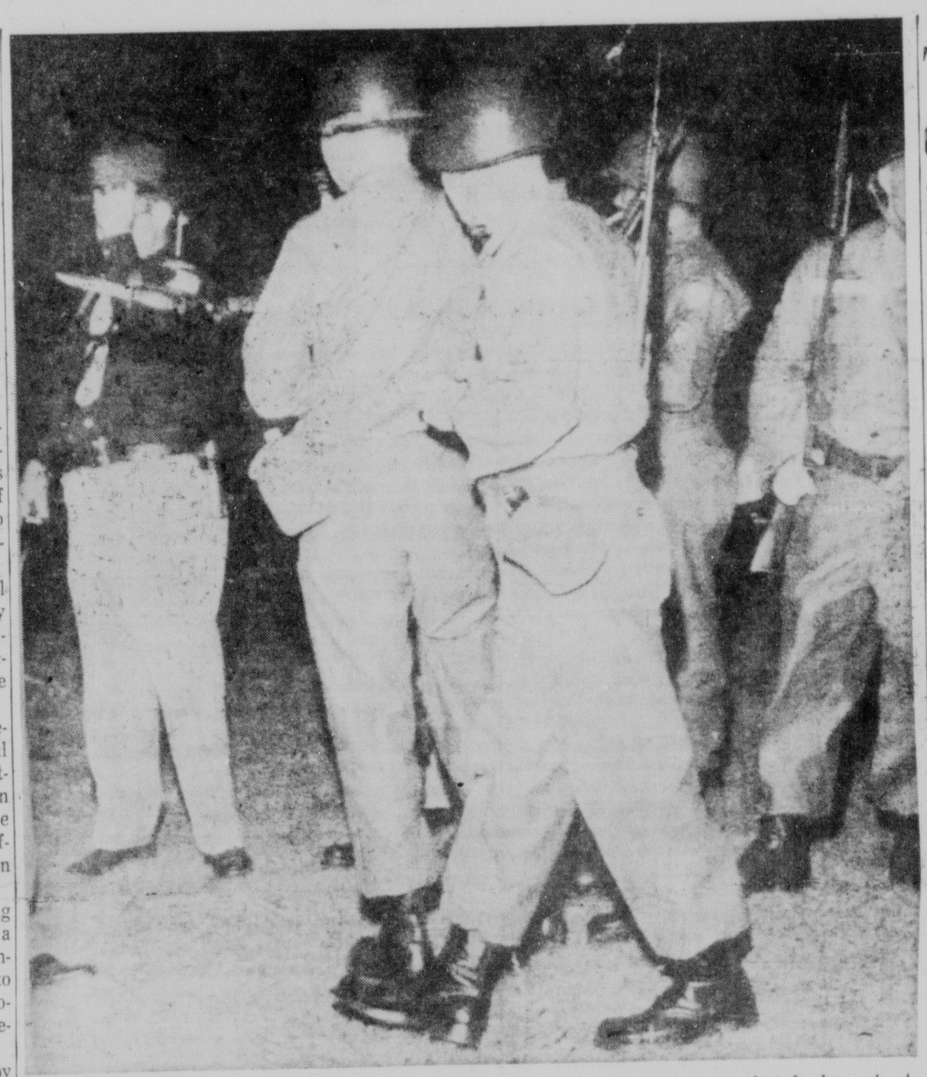

Patterson acted as a howling mob attempted to close in on a Negro church in which Negro integration leaders had gathered to discuss future policy on the so-called "freedom riders" movement.

The mob was held back by local authorities and some of the 500 U. S. marshals and special federal deputies which Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy started sending into the Montgomery area Saturday.

A high government source said it was obvious the federal government had to end the racial violence and had embarked on a course in that direction from which there could be no turning back. This, he said, meant the use of troops if it came to that point.

For the second straight night, the attorney general remained at his desk with a line open to Montgomery to keep in touch with developments. He made frequent reports to his brother, President John F. Kennedy, spending the weekend at his country home in Middleburg, Va.

Patterson Sunday afternoon protested by wire to the attorney general that the federal marshals were not needed and not wanted.

Troops Halt Outbreak Of Race Unrest

Negro Crowd Kept Inside Church For Protective Custody

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Racially troubled Montgomery lay under a protective cover of martial rule today after the second wild outbreak of rioting in a bloody weekend.

There were sporadic incidents of continued violence—including two house-burning attempts — hours after steel-helmeted troops with fixed bayonets took command. But the major violence had subsided, for the time at least.

An estimated 1,000 Negro worshippers spent much of the night in a church auditorium in protective custody after a howling mob of white men had tired to get to them.

About two hours before daylight guardsmen drove three National Guard trucks to the church, loaded 25 to 30 persons from the congregation in each truck, and took them home.

Then about 4 a.m. guardsmen told all those remaining they could leave. They streamed out in the early morning quiet, got into their cars, and drove off.

By 5 a.m. (CST) the church area was deserted except for 25 National Guardsmen left on duty to guard the church.

A National Guard officer said, "we don't anticipate any further trouble here."

Among the churchgoers were 18 of the freedom bus riders whose arrival in Montgomery on a segregation-testing challenge Saturday touched off repeated attacks by club-swinging white men and women.

Only Negroes remained in the bus-riding group after the lone white man among them was savagely beaten and sent to a hospital and two white girls, also mauled by the surging mob Saturday morning, were sent home by train.

In all, some 20 victims were clubbed and smashed to the ground with fists in two hours of rioting near the Greyhound bus station.

After 18 hours of a jittery quiet, another screaming, brick-throwing mob struck Sunday night against the Negroes jampacked into a church to greet the "freedom riders" and hear the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. condemn

Sheriff Nabs Escaped Pair

Jefferson Fugitives Found After Tip

Two men who escaped Saturday from Jefferson County's new $135,000 jail at Steubenville were arrested Sunday afternoon at 2 in the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. station about a block away by Sheriff George Huscroft and two deputies, acting on a tip.

They are Thomas Flowers, 20, of Toronto, who was awaiting trial on a bad check charge, and his cellmate, Richard Mitchell, 21, of Steubenville, who was serving a sentence for burglary.

The two gave up without a struggle. The sheriff said his office received a telephoned tip that two men in the station were believed to be the escapees.

Authorities said the two took advantage of the fact that all the sheriff's staff except Deputy Ray Long were taking part in an Armed Forces Day parade.

Flowers asked Deputy Long to let him out of his cell to make a telephone call. When Flowers was taken out of his cell, he grabbed Long's revolver and held him at gunpoint while he freed Mitchell.

The two then locked the deputy in their cell and fled.

It was the first break from the new jail.

Senate Debate Resumes

School Aid Bill Vote Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate resumes debate today on President Kennedy's federal aid to education bill with leaders pushing for passage by mid-week.

This promises to be the major action on the President's program in Congress this week.

However, Senate leaders also hoped to put through the $4.99 billion housing bill approved by the Banking Committee last week. This carries out all of Kennedy's recommendations in the field.

Both the housing and school aid bills are on the "big five" list discussed by the President before he took office.

Two of these, depressed areas and minimum wage, already have been signed by Kennedy. The fifth a health care plan for the aged under the Social Security System, may go over until 1962.

Both House and Senate are stepping up their hours in session and their committee schedules with the fifth month of the 1961 session almost over.

However, it appears that the Aug. 1 adjournment goal set by congressional leaders will be exceedingly hard to meet.

Much legislation remains. The appropriations bills especially are far behind schedule. Not a single one for fiscal 1962 starting July 1 has cleared the Senate and only three have passed the House out of the 12 to 14 that must be considered. The House has a minor one, carrying funds to run Congress, on its schedule this week.

Senate backers of the school aid bill were able to defeat all five attempts to amend it in four days of debate last week.

Pending as the Senate meets today is a proposal of Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., to bar any federal grants to racially segregated schools.

This is given little chance, however, because even the strong civil rights advocates among the bill's supporters have agreed to fight such amendments. They fear that adoption of such a rider would probably kill the bill.

In fact, the measure's sponsors welcomed the amendment. They believe its defeat would comfort Southern legislators whose votes are needed for final passage of the legislation, particularly in the House.

reportedly demanded Saturday that all the 3,600 troops used in the coup return to their original stations.

The order to move out was issued by Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young, the junta chief who also is premier, defense minister and army chief of staff.

Although the marines and paratroopers furnished the troops for the coup, the composition of the revolutionary council and the cabinet reflected the relative strength of South Korea's armed forces. Unofficial estimates put the army at 500,000 men, including 3,000 paratroopers, the marines and air force at 15,000 each and the navy 10,000.

the city for what he called Hitler-like barbarism.

It was the Sunday night uprising which provoked Gov. John M. Patterson to proclaim "qualified martial rule" and give troops under Adj. Gen. Henry V. Graham sweeping powers to take whatever action necessary to restore order.

The governor previously had protested bitterly against U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy's order to rush more than 500 armed U. S. marshals and deputies to Montgomery to prevent further interference with the bus riders.

In a tense, face-to-face meeting with Kennedy's top assistant, Byron R. White, the state's chief executive threatened to jail federal officers who sought to exert their authority in the absence of a request for federal help.

Patterson in his proclamation of martial law still insisted that the self-styled "freedom riders"—he called them "agitators"—were to blame for the race rioting because of their insistence on testing bus station racial barriers.

Mishap Hurts City Motorist

An East Liverpool motorist is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries received in an accident Saturday midnight on Route 168 near Midland which demolished two cars and slightly injured two Midland girls.

Ohio Township police reported that Wilbur Zander, 33, of 513 Virginia Ave., was headed north on Route 168, about a mile from Midland and hit headon an auto driven by Miss Elaine Segar, 19, of 400 Virginia Ave., Midland. Miss Shirley Segar, her sister, was a passenger, police said.

Zander, who was thrown against the steering wheel, suffered abrasions of his right knee and a deep laceration of his lip. He was admitted at 12:15 a. m. Sunday, the hospital reported.

Occupants of the other car were treated at the Crucible Emergency Hospital at Midland and at City Hospital, Bernard Zlatovich, constable, said.

Miss Elaine Segar received abrasions of her face and had upper teeth loosened and her sister suffered abrasions of the forehead, which required stitches, and a broken arch bone in her foot, according to an X-ray Sunday at City Hospital, police said.

The accident still is under investigation, Zlatovich said. The Zander auto and the Segar car were demolished, he said. Traffic was held up about an hour until a wrecker could remove the cars from the road.

Cecil Wilkinson

EAST PALESTINE — Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. in Metropolitan Methodist Church in Wesley Heights, Washington, for Cecil J. (Scoop) Wilkinson, first editor of the East Palestine Daily Leader and later executive secretary of the Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity, who died Saturday morning in Washington.

Burial will be in Delaware, Ohio.

Mr. Wilkinson suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Wednesday. He was 66.

He was born in East Palestine July 8, 1894, and became editor of the newspaper while attending High School. He returned to the post after serving in the Army in World War I. He left later to attend Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware.

From 1922 to 1959, he was executive secretary of the fraternity and editor of its magazine. He continued as a consultant to the fraternity after retiring last September.

A new Phi Gamma Delta fraternity house erected at Ohio Wesleyan a few years ago was named Wilkinson Lodge in his honor. His father, the late Gary Wilkinson, was East Palestine postmaster in the early 1900's.

In addition to his mother, Mrs. Nannie Wilkinson of East Palestine, he leaves his widow, the former Nell Herbert; a son, Gary Wilkinson, associate editor of the Journal of Home Building in Washington; a daughter, Mrs. William W. Swanson of Carmi, Ill., and a sister, Mrs. Roy Spaite of East Palestine.

City Group Joins Masonic Tribute For Ohio Master

Delegations from East Liverpool and other lodges in Columbiana County were included in a crowd of 1,500 at Youngstown Stambaugh Auditorium Saturday night which honored Charles H. Strayer of Toledo, grand master of Masons in Ohio.

All Masonic organizations in the 24th District, including Columbiana, Mahoning, Jefferson and Carroll Counties, were represented at the event. Strayer also was honored at a banquet of the Masonic Temple in Youngstown for 20 Grand Lodge officers and their wives.

It was the largest Masonic meeting ever held in Youngstown. Strayer was introduced by Clifford M. Powell of Youngstown, district deputy grand master. Mrs. Strayer was presented with a gift of dinnerware from the Columbiana County delegation. Strayer received a special upholstered aluminum chair made by the General Fireproofing Co. of Youngstown. The presentation was made by Joseph E. Hickle, another district deputy grand master.

Following the formal program, there was dancing to the music of Omeis' Round Towners orchestra.

Youth Center Names Queen

Miss Faye (Polly) Miller, Midland High School junior, was elected queen of the Midland Hi-Spot Youth Center Saturday night, Mrs. William Spisak, director, announced.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Faye Miller of S. 8th St., Midland, and will be crowned May 30 during the center's "Spring Fling" by Miss Ann Barbara Baich, last year's queen.

Others elected were Miss Gay Coble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Coble of Ohioville, maid of honor, and Miss Astera Pacella, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Sam Pacella, 609 Beaver Ave., Midland, crown bearer. Both are juniors.

Three sophomores elected as junior attendants next year are Joan DiNardo, Linda Kosanovich and Jean Waddingham. The narrator will be Miss Janice Tozana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Tozana of Maryland Ave., a senior.

Both Miss Miller and Miss Coble are members of last year's court. They are cousins and only one vote separated them in the election results.

Clark Race of Pittsburgh television station KDKA will provide entertainment at the coronation and bring special guests with him. Parents and friends of the court and the public are invited to attend since the event is the center's second "open house" of the year.

Members of the center will decorate this week for the event.

reportedly demanded Saturday that all the 3,600 troops used in the coup return to their original stations.

The order to move out was issued by Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young, the junta chief who also is premier, defense minister and army chief of staff.

Although the marines and paratroopers furnished the troops for the coup, the composition of the revolutionary council and the cabinet reflected the relative strength of South Korea's armed forces. Unofficial estimates put the army at 500,000 men, including 3,000 paratroopers, the marines and air force at 15,000 each and the navy 10,000.

the city for what he called Hitler-like barbarism.

It was the Sunday night uprising which provoked Gov. John M. Patterson to proclaim "qualified martial rule" and give troops under Adj. Gen. Henry V. Graham sweeping powers to take whatever action necessary to restore order.

The governor previously had protested bitterly against U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy's order to rush more than 500 armed U. S. marshals and deputies to Montgomery to prevent further interference with the bus riders.

In a tense, face-to-face meeting with Kennedy's top assistant, Byron R. White, the state's chief executive threatened to jail federal officers who sought to exert their authority in the absence of a request for federal help.

Patterson in his proclamation of martial law still insisted that the self-styled "freedom riders"—he called them "agitators"—were to blame for the race rioting because of their insistence on testing bus station racial barriers.

Twenty-two students participated. James Nesbitt, driver instructor, was in charge.

Mishap Hurts City Motorist

An East Liverpool motorist is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries received in an accident Saturday midnight on Route 168 near Midland which demolished two cars and slightly injured two Midland girls.

Ohio Township police reported that Wilbur Zander, 33, of 513 Virginia Ave., was headed north on Route 168, about a mile from Midland and hit headon an auto driven by Miss Elaine Segar, 19, of 400 Virginia Ave., Midland. Miss Shirley Segar, her sister, was a passenger, police said.

Zander, who was thrown against the steering wheel, suffered abrasions of his right knee and a deep laceration of his lip. He was admitted at 12:15 a. m. Sunday, the hospital reported.

Occupants of the other car were treated at the Crucible Emergency Hospital at Midland and at City Hospital. Bernard Zlatovich, constable, said.

Miss Elaine Segar received abrasions of her face and had upper teeth loosened and her sister suffered abrasions of the forehead, which required stitches, and a broken arch bone in her foot, according to an X-ray Sunday at City Hospital, police said.

The accident still is under investigation, Zlatovich said. The Zander auto and the Segar car were demolished, he said. Traffic was held up about an hour until a wrecker could remove the cars from the road.

Birds, Bees And Presidents

Whether Sherman Adams cleared the copy for his memoirs with Dwight D. Eisenhower is uncertain. But when the former White House aide in the Eisenhower administration describes the disenchantment of his chief after the 1952 "crusade," the account is too credible to permit uncertainty.

Gen. Eisenhower was given the Republican nomination in 1952 because he was a probable winner; the Democratic party had wanted to give him its nomination for the same reason. Everybody knew at the time that the Eisenhower ideas could not be squared readily with traditional Republicanism. The candidate favored by traditionalists was Ohio Sen. Robert A. Taft, who was pushed aside by the eastern boom for the likely winner. Sen. Taft, it was pointed out by his detractors, was not a likely winner—a slur that hurt him and his backers.

It was inevitable under these circumstances that sooner or later Dwight Eisenhower would undergo a certain amount of disenchantment about the circumstances of his political position. This now becomes an interesting part of the Adams memoirs. The chief White Huse aide was in the best possible place to witness what happened.

BUT BEFORE too many hard and fast conclusions are reached by people overanxious to reach them for partisan disparagement, there is this to be said about President Eisenhower's disagreements with Republican conservatives and his disappointment because the crusading spirit of so many young citizens was sidetracked after 1952.

All presidents learn about the partisan birds and bees, including the one currently in the White House. It began with George Washington, another general who knew little about partisanship and cared less.

It even has had its effect on the partisan presidents—professional politicians like Harry Truman. William McKinley spoke about it, deploring the fact that a president must become the spokesman for the people who put him in office and ceases in large part to be his own man.

The details of the disenchantment always are different, but the impact is always the same.

THE PRESIDENT of the United States is the storm center of all the pulling and hauling that characterize government in the United States.

No one can hope to escape it—not even military heroes who think they deserve better from the country they served and the people who helped elevate them to the presidency as recognition for their service.

The Adams memoirs will not tell a unique story but a typical story that has been told after every presidential administration. The latest chapter is being written now in the notes being kept conscientiously by whatever insider is hopeful of setting down the blow-by-blow account of John F. Kennedy's acquaintanceship with the birds and bees of presidential politics.

'Clean-Up' Time

The Chamber of Commerce has launched plans for its annual "Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up" campaign.

To their credit, most East Liverpool residents take pride in their homes and see to it that they are spick and span. There are some, however, who have a tendency to neglect things. It is to them that the campaign should carry special significance.

If those who haven't gotten into the act in the past will do so this year, this could be the most successful of all clean-ups.

Loving Friends

Most of the TV Emmy Award winners are in good physical condition — at least the pace at which they raced up to receive their awards indicated they were. But missing from the awards ceremonies in Hollywood and New York was the biggest winner of all — Will Shakespeare.

"We are advertised by our loving friends," he wrote in King Henry VI.

The Once Over

People who want to bet on a horse in England can now legally leave a note to milkman "Leave a quart of milk and receipt for a bet." They can pull into gas station with instructions, "Check the gas and morning line."

Bookie emporiums are now operating on street corners and you can bet at them or use butcher, baker and candlestick maker as a medium. Not a bad idea. (You may not get anywhere with a horse but you at least get the milk, gas or meat for beef pie.)

There is less trouble playing ponies in England than in indulging in almost any other activity, John Bull having decided you can't legalize human instincts.

Folks who argue for legal betting centers operated by our own states are watching British system. But opponents insist its adoption in this country would simply mean that horse players would not only lose money, but their morning milk.

Our racketeers get into everything and would probably get into the butter, eggs, and cream business, giving the public no more chance to get ahead on the icebox than on races.

We would have crooks getting into the act and cutting off milk for home if the milk bottle held an order for a pint of cream without a bet on the daily double.

"The racketeers would make it tough for a guy who wanted nothing but a good day with cows instead of gallopers. The public would be getting an unreasonable odds on yogurt as on a steeplechaser.

The gas meter inspector, the brush salesman and the mailman would really be deputy bookies. "Before you knew it the baker would cut out your loaf of bread if you didn't show any enthusiasm for a horse.

THE PRE-SHRUNK, vacuum cleansed bank balance of Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Citizen will arrive if Congress passes new income tax measure making banks deduct interest for government before depositor even knows what it is. And if they have saved enough through thrift to make an investment, however small, the corporation will also have to take position that Uncle Sam gets the early bird cut.

All through history a man's bank book has been highly private. He could always go to the bank and get his interest money first. But he may soon find Washington has snatched 20 per cent of it for income tax.

Millions of Americans have by hard work and thrift managed to get a little money in the bank for a rainy day but Washington now proposes to provide the rain and snatch part of the umbrella, telling people, "we can't take a chance on you being honest, rain or shine."

Shrinkage of savings is guaranteed by the government. Decent Americans are willing to pay taxes on interest and dividends but they resent being regarded as probably dishonest, unreliable and furtive.

This tax measure can bring back the horse collar, mattress, antique base and hollow tree stump as the main reliance of the thrifty.

Let The Kids Play

The Little League and Pony League seasons are with us again.

Arguments still rage pro and con as to the value of such organized play. Both sides can make strong points for their cause.

It is our feeling, however, that the advantages outweigh the disadvantages and that the leagues play a worthwhile part in the youth program. The kids seem to get a big kick out of the competition and pick up valuable lessons in winning and losing.

It is to the parents that we again offer a word of advice: Give the leagues all the support possible and back your youngsters to the limit in the proper manner, but don't become worked up to the point where winning is placed above everything else. If too much emphasis is placed on winning at the expense of the other phases of the sport, both parents and youngsters could be the losers.

Let the kids play the game with a minimum of parental interference. Too many "sideline managers" could spoil the broth.

No Sympathy!

When you watch those rootin', tootin', shootin' westerns on TV, don't feel sorry for the horses. Ol' Dobbin, out on the back 40, could wish he had it so good.

The American Humane Association recently estimated that the accident rate to animal actors is 50 per cent less than for their contemporaries on farms and ranches.

In fact, AHA came to the conclusion that while acting in a western looks like a hazardous occupation for a horse, it may in reality prolong his life span.

Last year more than 14,000 animals were signed up for movies and telefilms. It is the AHA's job to see that animals are never mistreated.

Thanks to the AHA and the cooperation of film producers, actor horses can even expect to outlive their villainous gunslinging riders.

The greatest life expectancy in the world, according to a recent U.N. survey, is that of a Norwegian girl. Her life expectancy is 72.65 years.

Progress Report

Union Levies 'Private' Tax

By Victor Riesel

Skilled craftsmen, whose sensitive fingers are preparing the electronic equipment which could put a second Commander Shepard on the Moon first, are paying a union for the right to work at the sky-scraping Cape Canaveral experimental base.

Victor Riesel

If they don't work, the United States can't shoot for the Moon. If we don't get our lunar probe off, our men will have to go through Soviet customs to visit the newest satellite.

If the men refuse to pay a special 3 per cent tax to this International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW), Local 756, they can't work at the Cape.

This is not regular union dues. Nor is it limited to members of the local, led by one Robert Palmer, who apparently has the Air Force well in hand.

This is a special assessment which must be paid by all those falling in the electronic-wiring interspace and ground base communications jurisdiction.

This special tax is paid by workers whether they are members of the IBEW, or other unions or are non-union.

THIS 3 PER CENT tax on weekly wages has been levied by the local for some time. Long enough to have netted it $500,000 in extra income.

This money has gone into the local's building fund. The money, therefore, comes from Cape Canaveral workers who may never use, or even see the new facilities—because the local's headquarters is in Daytona Beach.

Thus the workers directly, and the public indirectly, are paying from $6 to $12 a week, and more in some cases, over and above their regular dues.

Furthermore, it costs the union nothing to collect this private tax. By agreement, obviously approved by the Air Force, the employing contractors simply deduct the money from the men's pay and send it up to Daytona.

Thus, the union, in effect, has had its own construction financed by funds which originally came from the government—the ultimate payer of all bills on these projects.

Furthermore, such a private tax adds insult to financial injury at the base, one senator told this columnist. He pointed to John McClellan's report to the Senate, which includes a statement that Cape Canaveral labor operated at 40 per cent of expected normal productivity.

ALL THIS and more has turned up during the McClellan committee's effort to do a cost-accounting job on what it learned from eight days of testimony by 38 witnesses.

It was discovered, for example, that worker's wages of $26,000 annually were not infrequent. Nice work if you can get it!

Apparently a new minimum wage record has been set by those involved: "In all the cases presented in hearings on wages paid, there was not a worker who did not exceed a salary of $221 weekly."

If this country weren't so tight for money some of this would make hilarious reading. Laborers at Vandenberg Air Force Base were found making $287 a week for digging ditches and cleaning up around the premises.

There were truck drivers earning $324 weekly. Warehouse clerks took $262 a week and two elevator operators, members of the operating engineers, snagged $360 a week.

You could have generated enough power with the heat under Sen. McClellan's collar to light up the Capitol dome for a year when he suspended hearings of the Permanent subcommittee on Investigations. But he wanted to give Labor Secretary Goldberg a chance to develop a peace formula.

However, neither MClellan, nor another prober, Sen. Mundt, nor Florida's Sen. Holland believe Mr. Goldberg can.

IT IS POINTED OUT that the Atomic Energy Commission has such a labor peace board—and there continue to be scores of unreported strikes costing tens of thousands of lost man days.

At this moment, McClellan is drafting a firm no-strike law covering all projects and bases and installations and factories involved in defense production. He'll introduce such a bill within two weeks.

He agrees with President Kennedy that the country "cannot afford the luxury of avoidable delays in our missile and space programs. Neither can we tolerate wasteful and expensive habits and practices which add to the great financial burden. . . ."

These are John Kennedy's words. Now the senators want a law to say it positively—even to local unions.

'Peace Corps' Perils

By Raymond Moley

It would be unwise at this time for the Republican opposition to make an issue of the Peace Corps. The international situation is too tense to justify that sort of exercise.

The idea was, no doubt, born of real idealism. But the haste in which it was launched prevented a sound appraisal of the dangers and difficulties involved.

These considerations are now being advanced in the hope that those charged with the project might profit.

Many people who have been actively concerned with the problems of backward nations are pointing out the problems that lie ahead.

One of these is Dr. Milton L. Rakove of the University of Chicago. He said recently:

"I would say that the name 'Peace Corps' is a misnomer, a gimmick. May I remind you that Sargent Shriver, in his excellent brief presentation to President Kennedy, put teaching first on his list of needs.

"Now, we don't doubt that the elimination of illiteracy is one of the great needs of the world. But may I remind you that the illiterate peoples of the world rarely cause any permanent disruption of peace. It is the literate, the educated that cause all the trouble. We should not call this the 'Peace Corps.' It is not a peace corps and that is a most unfortunate name."

THERE IS the most sincerely asked question whether the federal government under Point 4 is best equipped to prepare individuals for handling another language, for standing up to the very severe environment, and for giving instruction in primitive agriculture and in furthering construction and health systems.

Agricultural colleges and technical high schools could do a better job. And it is a safe guess that a young man without a college education, who has worked in the fields and ranches of the South and West, who has worked along with Mexican labor, might prove to be a better bet to withstand the rigors of Central Africa than most college graduates.

Dr. Richard Houk of DePaul University, a geographer familiar with Portuguese Africa, points out that the areas where missions and advisers are most needed are invariably those places where living conditions for a young American are most difficult, if not perilous.

Dr. Houk says: "I doubt greatly whether the average young American can stick it out two years in some of the spots I have seen. The living conditions are frightful. For a North American the water is unpalatable, even dangerous.

"Therefore, such Americans must have their water brought in. Disease is rampant. Therefore they must have doctors and medicines.

"In addition, the sheer psychological impact of hardship and loneliness is going to be very hard to meet and withstand.

"I think that most of the volunteers will be begging to come home before the end of their two-year term. This will create a very bad impression on the people we are trying to help."

ON A RECENT TRIP to the Indian Punjab, Mr. Shriver found that no one knew just what his proposal was. They expected him to produce the products of our factories, not of our universities.

Training of the volunteers in the announced Puerto Rico camp, which will catch the sea breezes, will not even approximate the environment of an African or Asian forest heavy with humidity and heat. Under a hurried program of this sort, there will be too many casualties after the first few months. The damage to American good will might be very severe.

Invasion Flop Studied

By James Marlow

Military Chiefs Criticized In Cuba Fiasco

WASHINGTON — The Joint Chiefs of Staff, the nation's top military planners, have been blasted since the Cuban invasion disaster.

This writer has been told reliably that President Kennedy is burned up at them and also at Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

It will be no surprise if he removes Dulles and shakes up the chiefs. But there is reluctance in the Defense Department from the top down to see the chiefs get clobbered—for this reason:

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara himself approved the decision to let the invasion be made.

What follows is the story of what happened, made timely once more because of what occurred over the weekend after Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, testified before a Senate committee behind closed doors. Sen. Albert Gore, Tennessee Democrat, said the chiefs had "blundered incredibly" and should be thrown out. A milder reaction came from Sen. Styles Bridges, New Hampshire Republican.

He said it's an American habit to look for goats when things go wrong.

THOSE TAKING part in the decision on the invasion to overthrow Fidel Castro were Kennedy, McNamara, Lemnitzer, Dulles, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, with McGeorge Bundy, Kennedy's special assistant on security, sitting in on all sessions.

These men had numerous meetings, went into all phases of the invasion exhaustively, including the possibility of failure. They not only studied yards of maps endlessly but even went into the problem of invading on various beaches.

Generally speaking, the decision to go ahead with the invasion was unanimous among all those mentioned.

They made this decision knowing only about 1,200 men would be the invading force and that Castro had 35,000 tons of Soviet-bloc equipment and many thousands of men under arms.

Nevertheless, the White House group thought the odds were in favor of the invaders. Why?

They thought only one-third of the Cuban population was loyal to Castro and that the other two-thirds, once the invasion began, would rise up against him.

In retrospect it seems incredible the decision for the invasion was primarily based on the assumption there would be an uprising, an uprising which never took place. The assumption had to be based on information about the Cuban people.

Dulles' CIA, which would be responsible for information on the mood of the Cuban people, says its information was perfect. If it was, in view of the invasion failure, what went wrong?

THIS IS the CIA's explanation: that the invasion had to be sustained to give the Cuban masses time to respond by an uprising. But it wasn't sustained. Why not? That's a part of the story which hasn't been revealed at all yet.

These were some of the reasons behind the White House decision to go ahead with the invasion:

1. It was thought this was the last time the American government could assume Castro could be overthrown by anything short of direct American intervention.

2. Continuation of the Castro regime is a danger to the United States in its relations with other Latin American countries.

3. There was some puzzlement about what to do with the rebels—if they didn't invade since they had been in training for a year. For instance: where, if they did not hit Cuba, could they have been absorbed?

4. There was a "marginal" chance of overthrowing Castro.

The Man Makes Sense

By Truman Twill

When Sir Julian Huxley, the British biologist, talks about the world population crisis, I pay attention. The man makes sense.

He said something a few days ago that made special sense. He was talking about cities.

We are making them impossible to live in because of the uncontrolled size of their populations, he said. "A city can become only so large before it becomes an uneconomic unit."

Sir Julian thinks New York, London and Tokyo are uneconomic. This is why I pay attention to him. I think all large cities are uneconomic and have reached a conclusion about a way to determine when this state has been reached.

When people can't go home for lunch, a city is too large. This does not mean everybody wants to go home for lunch or should go home for lunch — only that no one should say he is living efficiently if he can't go home for lunch if he feels like it.

This means going home for lunch on a reasonable basis of time. It does not mean people who eat lunch in a half hour should be able to go home and come back. It does not apply to people who complicate lunch hours with meetings and shopping expeditions.

It means that ordinary people who can take an hour for lunch if they feel like it should be able to go home, eat a good lunch and get back to their posts before someone wonders if something has happened to them.

I arrived at this formula when one of my boyhood friends told me he spent an hour and a half each way coming to and going home from work in New York City. He worked five days a week every week and sometimes came in to work on Saturday. That was from 15 to 18 hours a week travel time, not counting the time he spent waiting for transportation. He lived in New Jersey.

What I resent most about overgrown cities is the notion that people who live elsewhere should let their taxes be diverted to bailing the cities out of their uneconomic plight by doctoring them up this way and that way to conceal the fact they are dying. They claim this money as a matter of right. By my own formula, it takes the labor of a half dozen Americans to support just one denizen of a place like New York, where the cost of inefficiency is concealed only thinly by fat subsidies drawn from government and exorbitant prices paid for services by residents and visitors.

Government decrees how many passengers can be carried in an airplane, how many people are allowed in a theater, the capacity of elevators and even, in some instances, how many human beings can live under one roof. Yet government does nothing about how many people can be jam-packed into cities, already suffocating in their own hordes. And government never will do anything about this as long as politicians figure they can use the hordes as political leverage to get what they want.

Otherwise, some of our overpopulated cities would be warned that they were so and so many thousand over the limit of human decency and couldn't draw another cent of public money until they had thinned out their populations.

Me and Sir Julian Huxley, we think alike.

'Rights' Issue On Wane

By Earl Mao

If the volume of letters received by conressmen is indicative, the nation isn't much interested in civil rights legislation at present.

The congressional Post Office estimates it delivered approximately 2½ million pieces of mail to House and Senate members since May 8, when Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa, and Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y. introduced their much-discussed measure to implement the civil rights promises of the Democratic campaign platform.

A SPOT CHECK this week showed that apparently fewer than 200 of the letters dealt with civil rights.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-NY, whose name is synonomous with the civil rights cause, got altogether two letters relating to that issue—and 23,498 advising him one way or another on railroad, aid to education, medical care, tax and other matters.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss, whose name is synonomous with the anti-civil-rights cause, reportedly got none at all—not even from the "regulars" who heretofore never missed opportunities to urge that he keep burying rights legislation in the Judiciary Committee, of which he is chairman.

As for the current bill's authors—Sen. Clark's office said he got about a dozen letters, some for and some against the Clark-Celler bill, and Mr. Celler's office estimated he received "bout 35—mostly for."

While opinions vary widely as to the significance of congressional mail, many senators and House members view it generally as a rather accurate poll of back-home sentiment.

Birds, Bees And Presidents

Whether Sherman Adams cleared the copy for his memoirs with Dwight D. Eisenhower is uncertain. But when the former White House aide in the Eisenhower administration describes the disenchantment of his chief after the 1952 "crusade," the account is too credible to permit uncertainty.

Gen. Eisenhower was given the Republican nomination in 1952 because he was a probable winner; the Democratic party had wanted to give him its nomination for the same reason. Everybody knew at the time that the Eisenhower ideas could not be squared readily with traditional Republicanism. The candidate favored by traditionalists was Ohio Sen. Robert A. Taft, who was pushed aside by the eastern boom for the likely winner. Sen. Taft, it was pointed out by his detractors, was not a likely winner—a slur that hurt him and his backers.

It was inevitable under these circumstances that sooner or later Dwight Eisenhower would undergo a certain amount of disenchantment about the circumstances of his political position. This now becomes an interesting part of the Adams memoirs. The chief White Huse aide was in the best possible place to witness what happened.

BUT BEFORE too many hard and fast conclusions are reached by people overanxious to reach them for partisan disparagement, there is this to be said about President Eisenhower's disagreements with Republican conservatives and his disappointment because the crusading spirit of so many young citizens was sidetracked after 1952.

All presidents learn about the partisan birds and bees, including the one currently in the White House. It began with George Washington, another general who knew little about partisanship and cared less.

It even has had its effect on the partisan presidents—professional politicians like Harry Truman. William McKinley spoke about it, deploring the fact that a president must become the spokesman for the people who put him in office and ceases in large part to be his own man.

The details of the disenchantment always are different, but the impact is always the same.

THE PRESIDENT of the United States is the storm center of all the pulling and hauling that characterize government in the United States.

No one can hope to escape it—not even military heroes who think they deserve better from the country they served and the people who helped elevate them to the presidency as recognition for their service.

The Adams memoirs will not tell a unique story but a typical story that has been told after every presidential administration. The latest chapter is being written now in the notes being kept conscientiously by whatever insider is hopeful of setting down the blow-by-blow account of John F. Kennedy's acquaintanceship with the birds and bees of presidential politics.

'Clean-Up' Time

The Chamber of Commerce has launched plans for its annual "Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up" campaign.

To their credit, most East Liverpool residents take pride in their homes and see to it that they are spick and span. There are some, however, who have a tendency to neglect things. It is to them that the campaign should carry special significance.

If those who haven't gotten into the act in the past will do so this year, this could be the most successful of all clean-ups.

Loving Friends

Most of the TV Emmy Award winners are in good physical condition — at least the pace at which they raced up to receive their awards indicated they were. But missing from the awards ceremonies in Hollywood and New York was the biggest winner of all — Will Shakespeare.

"We are advertised by our loving friends," he wrote in King Henry VI.

The Once Over

People who want to bet on a horse in England can now legally leave a note to milkman "Leave a quart of milk and receipt for a bet." They can pull into gas station with instructions, "Check the gas and morning line."

Bookie emporiums are now operating on street corners and you can bet at them or use butcher, baker and candlestick maker as a medium. Not a bad idea. (You may not get anywhere with a horse but you at least get the milk, gas or meat for beef pie.)

There is less trouble playing ponies in England than in indulging in almost any other activity, John Bull having decided you can't legalize human instincts.

Folks who argue for legal betting centers operated by our own states are watching British system. But opponents insist its adoption in this country would simply mean that horse players would not only lose money, but their morning milk.

Our racketeers get into everything and would probably get into the butter, eggs, and cream business, giving the public no more chance to get ahead on the icebox than on races.

We would have crooks getting into the act and cutting off milk for home if the milk bottle held an order for a pint of cream without a bet on the daily double.

"The racketeers would make it tough for a guy who wanted nothing but a good day with cows instead of gallopers. The public would be getting an unreasonable odds on yogurt as on a steeplechaser.

The gas meter inspector, the brush salesman and the mailman would really be deputy bookies. "Before you knew it the baker would cut out your loaf of bread if you didn't show any enthusiasm for a horse.

THE PRE-SHRUNK, vacuum cleansed bank balance of Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Citizen will arrive if Congress passes new income tax measure making banks deduct interest for government before depositor even knows what it is. And if they have saved enough through thrift to make an investment, however small, the corporation will also have to take position that Uncle Sam gets the early bird cut.

All through history a man's bank book has been highly private. He could always go to the bank and get his interest money first. But he may soon find Washington has snatched 20 per cent of it for income tax.

Millions of Americans have by hard work and thrift managed to get a little money in the bank for a rainy day but Washington now proposes to provide the rain and snatch part of the umbrella, telling people, "we can't take a chance on you being honest, rain or shine."

Shrinkage of savings is guaranteed by the government. Decent Americans are willing to pay taxes on interest and dividends but they resent being regarded as probably dishonest, unreliable and furtive.

This tax measure can bring back the horse collar, mattress, antique base and hollow tree stump as the main reliance of the thrifty.

No Sympathy!

When you watch those rootin', tootin', shootin' westerns on TV, don't feel sorry for the horses. Ol' Dobbin, out on the back 40, could wish he had it so good.

The American Humane Association recently estimated that the accident rate to animal actors is 50 per cent less than for their contemporaries on farms and ranches.

In fact, AHA came to the conclusion that while acting in a western looks like a hazardous occupation for a horse, it may in reality prolong his life span.

Last year more than 14,000 animals were signed up for movies and telefilms. It is the AHA's job to see that animals are never mistreated.

Thanks to the AHA and the cooperation of film producers, actor horses can even expect to outlive their villainous gunslinging riders.

The greatest life expectancy in the world, according to a recent U.N. survey, is that of a Norwegian girl. Her life expectancy is 72.65 years.

Union Levies 'Private' Tax

By Victor Riesel

Skilled craftsmen, whose sensitive fingers are preparing the electronic equipment which could put a second Commander Shepard on the Moon first, are paying a union for the right to work at the sky-scraping Cape Canaveral experimental base.

Victor Riesel

If they don't work, the United States can't shoot for the Moon. If we don't get our lunar probe off, our men will have to go through Soviet customs to visit the newest satellite.

If the men refuse to pay a special 3 per cent tax to this International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW), Local 756, they can't work at the Cape.

This is not regular union dues. Nor is it limited to members of the local, led by one Robert Palmer, who apparently has the Air Force well in hand.

This is a special assessment which must be paid by all those falling in the electronic-wiring interspace and ground base communications jurisdiction.

This special tax is paid by workers whether they are members of the IBEW, or other unions or are non-union.

THIS 3 PER CENT tax on weekly wages has been levied by the local for some time. Long enough to have netted it $500,000 in extra income.

This money has gone into the local's building fund. The money, therefore, comes from Cape Canaveral workers who may never use, or even see the new facilities —because the local's headquarters is in Daytona Beach.

Thus the workers directly, and the public indirectly, are paying from $6 to $12 a week, and more in some cases, over and above their regular dues.

Furthermore, it costs the union nothing to collect this private tax. By agreement, obviously approved by the Air Force, the employing contractors simply deduct the money from the men's pay and send it up to Daytona.

Thus, the union, in effect, has had its own construction financed by funds which originally came from the government—the ultimate payer of all bills on these projects.

Furthermore, such a private tax adds insult to financial injury at the base, one senator told this columnist. He pointed to John McClellan's report to the Senate, which includes a statement that Cape Canaveral labor operated at 40 per cent of expected normal productivity.

ALL THIS and more has turned up during the McClellan committee's effort to do a cost-accounting job on what it learned from eight days of testimony by 38 witnesses.

It was discovered, for example, that worker's wages of $26,000 annually were not infrequent. Nice work if you can get it!

Apparently a new minimum wage record has been set by those involved: "In all the cases presented in hearings on wages paid, there was not a worker who did not exceed a salary of $221 weekly."

If this country weren't so tight for money some of this would make hilarious reading. Laborers at Vandenberg Air Force Base were found making $287 a week for digging ditches and cleaning up around the premises.

There were truck drivers earning $324 weekly. Warehouse clerks took $262 a week and two elevator operators, members of the operating engineers, snagged $360 a week.

You could have generated enough power with the heat under Sen. McClellan's collar to light up the Capitol dome for a year when he suspended hearings of the Permanent subcommittee on Investigations. But he wanted to give Labor Secretary Goldberg a chance to develop a peace formula.

However, neither MClellan, nor another prober, Sen. Mundt, nor Florida's Sen. Holland believe Mr. Goldberg can.

IT IS POINTED OUT that the Atomic Energy Commission has such a labor peace board—and there continue to be scores of unreported strikes costing tens of thousands of lost man days.

At this moment, McClellan is drafting a firm no-strike law covering all projects and bases and installations and factories involved in defense production. He'll introduce such a bill within two weeks.

He agrees with President Kennedy that the country "cannot afford the luxury of avoidable delays in our missile and space programs. Neither can we tolerate wasteful and expensive habits and practices which add to the great financial burden. . . ."

These are John Kennedy's words. Now the senators want a law to say it positively—even to local unions.

'Peace Corps' Perils

By Raymond Moley

It would be unwise at this time for the Republican opposition to make an issue of the Peace Corps. The international situation is too tense to justify that sort of exercise.

The idea was, no doubt, born of real idealism. But the haste in which it was launched prevented a sound appraisal of the dangers and difficulties involved.

These considerations are now being advanced in the hope that those charged with the project might profit.

Many people who have been actively concerned with the problems of backward nations are pointing out the problems that lie ahead.

One of these is Dr. Milton L. Rakove of the University of Chicago. He said recently:

"I would say that the name 'Peace Corps' is a misnomer, a gimmick. May I remind you that Sargent Shriver, in his excellent brief presentation to President Kennedy, put teaching first on his list of needs.

"Now, we don't doubt that the elimination of illiteracy is one of the great needs of the world. But may I remind you that the illiterate peoples of the world rarely cause any permanent disruption of peace. It is the literate, the educated that cause all the trouble. We should not call this the 'Peace Corps.' It is not a peace corps and that is a most unfortunate name."

THERE IS the most sincerely asked question whether the federal government under Point 4 is best equipped to prepare individuals for handling another language, for standing up to the very severe environment, and for giving instruction in primitive agriculture and in furthering construction and health systems.

Agricultural colleges and technical high schools could do a better job. And it is a safe guess that a young man without a college education, who has worked in the fields and ranches of the South and West, who has worked along with Mexican labor, might prove to be a better bet to withstand the rigors of Central Africa than most college graduates.

Dr. Richard Houk of DePaul University, a geographer familiar with Portuguese Africa, points out that the areas where missions and advisers are most needed are invariably those places where living conditions for a young American are most difficult, if not perilous.

Dr. Houk says: "I doubt greatly whether the average young American can stick it out two years in some of the spots I have seen. The living conditions are frightful. For a North American the water is unpalatable, even dangerous.

"Therefore, such Americans must have their water brought in. Disease is rampant. Therefore they must have doctors and medicines.

"In addition, the sheer psychological impact of hardship and loneliness is going to be very hard to meet and withstand.

"I think that most of the volunteers will be begging to come home before the end of their two-year term. This will create a very bad impression on the people we are trying to help."

ON A RECENT TRIP to the Indian Punjab, Mr. Shriver found that no one knew just what his proposal was. They expected him to produce the products of our factories, not of our universities.

Training of the volunteers in the announced Puerto Rico camp, which will catch the sea breezes, will not even approximate the environment of an African or Asian forest heavy with humidity and heat. Under a hurried program of this sort, there will be too many casualties after the first few months. The damage to American good will might be very severe.

Invasion Flop Studied

Military Chiefs Criticized In Cuba Fiasco

WASHINGTON — The Joint Chiefs of Staff, the nation's top military planners, have been blasted since the Cuban invasion disaster.

This writer has been told reliably that President Kennedy is burned up at them and also at Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

It will be no surprise if he removes Dulles and shakes up the chiefs. But there is reluctance in the Defense Department from the top down to see the chiefs get clobbered—for this reason:

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara himself approved the decision to let the invasion be made.

What follows is the story of what happened, made timely once more because of what occurred over the weekend after Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, testified before a Senate committee behind closed doors. Sen. Albert Gore, Tennessee Democrat, said the chiefs had "blundered incredibly" and should be thrown out. A milder reaction came from Sen. Styles Bridges, New Hampshire Republican.

He said it's an American habit to look for goats when things go wrong.

THOSE TAKING part in the decision on the invasion to overthrow Fidel Castro were Kennedy, McNamara, Lemnitzer, Dulles, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, with McGeorge Bundy, Kennedy's special assistant on security, sitting in on all sessions.

These men had numerous meetings, went into all phases of the invasion exhaustively, including the possibility of failure. They not only studied yards of maps endlessly but even went into the problem of invading on various beaches.

Generally speaking, the decision to go ahead with the invasion was unanimous among all those mentioned.

upset as he grabbed to keep the woman from falling onto the pavement.

The two East Liverpool teenagers and two boys from Chester were injured when their auto went out of control on Route 267, went off the left side of the highway and plunged over an embankment Sunday afternoon at 1:25.

The patrol said the driver was Charles W. White, 19, of 128 Montana Ave., Chester, who is in "fairly good" condition today in City Hospital with lacerations of the forehead and chin.

Others injured in the crash, all passengers, included:

Miss Lucky Sprague, 18, of 636½ Avondale St., "fair" condition with a possible fractured right shoulder and bruises of both shins.

Kay Stoddard, 18, of 637½ St. Clair Ave., "fairly good" condition with a large laceration of the forehead, possible skull fracture and possible jaw injury.

Jack Smith, 19, of 336 Indiana Ave., Chester, who suffered a laceration of the nose and eyebrow. He was treated at City Hospital and later released.

The patrol said the mishap occurred eight-tenths of a mile off State Route 30 in the Glenmoor area.

In another mishap Sunday at 2:40 p. m., Kenneth E. Strabley, 32, of 59 W. Main St., Salineville, suffered minor abrasions of the face and body when his truck rolled over on State Route 30.

The patrol said Strabley was driving west in a 1958 model truck when he rounded a slight curve, went left of center, came back on the highway, slid sideways and rolled over.

The mishap occurred six-tenths mile east of Bridge 30250 along Route 30. Strabley was cited for reckless operation, the patrol said.

George Stoffko, 22, of Girard was treated at City Hospital for abrasions of both arms and hands received when his auto crashed into a ditch Sunday at 3 p. m. near Rogers. He was driving at a high rate of speed, the patrol said. Stoffko was cited for reckless operation.

Lyle Jenkins, 16, of 244 S. Market St., East Palestine, was cited for driving left of center when he fell asleep at 6 a. m. Sunday and crashed into a utility pole along Highway 14 near Route 170. He escaped injury.

In one other accident Sunday, William Moats, 40, of Washington Court House was cited for failure to halt in the assured clear distance when he struck Ruth Keith, 18, of Canton on State Route 62 near Salem. Neither driver was injured.

Is your family's financial security program as up-to-date as your family? Find out with a

FAMILY SECURITY CHECK-UP

Every father knows that his family's needs change from year to year. Perhaps there's a new baby...or a new house...or a teen-ager thinking of college. These are just some of the reasons why every father should have a thorough review of his family's security program regularly—whether he needs insurance or not.

What your could lose without one

There are mistakes, oversights, gaps in the average man's financial security program. Too much of it is haphazard. Too much of it is left to chance. It lacks a plan. Or, too often, it simply falls behind the times.

For example, the Social Security law has been changed nine times since its inception. And the Social Security benefits your wife and children could get may not dovetail efficiently with your pension or insurance programs. Then too—you can unintentionally "disinherit" a child, in effect, if you have overlooked naming him among your beneficiaries.

More than an interview—a service

Metropolitan, the Company you look to for authoritative information on physical health, offers a way to check up on your family's financial health.

Metropolitan representatives have been trained in Metropolitan's own schools and are qualified by solid experience to bring you this Family Security Check-Up service. They are equipped with businesslike charts and tables that show you exactly where you stand.

Whether you need insurance or not, this service makes sense. Remember, Metropolitan is as local as Main Street—as close as your phone. Call your Metropolitan man today.

There is no obligation—except to those you love.

Family Security Check-Up

WHAT IT IS AND WHAT IT DOES FOR YOU

With the help of your Metropolitan man:

1. You check the facts: your Social Security, your home, your life insurance, your pension plan, your savings and other assets. You may be surprised to learn how much you're worth.

2. You weigh your responsibilities: mortgage or rent payments, education, retirement, accident and sickness emergencies; how much it would cost your family to live without you.

3. You learn where you stand. You determine your weak and strong points . . . whether the provisions you have made for your family will do what you intend. You get the facts in front of you.

4. You plan for the future. Based on these facts, you decide what action, if any, may be needed to give you a family security plan, tailor-made to your own needs and ambitions—one which makes good sense for you.

upset as he grabbed to keep the woman from falling onto the pavement.

The two East Liverpool teenagers and two boys from Chester were injured when their auto went out of control on Route 267, went off the left side of the highway and plunged over an embankment Sunday afternoon at 1:25.

The patrol said the driver was Charles W. White, 19, of 128 Montana Ave., Chester, who is in "fairly good" condition today in City Hospital with lacerations of the forehead and chin.

Others injured in the crash, all passengers, included:

Miss Lucky Sprague, 18, of 636½ Avondale St., "fair" condition with a possible fractured right shoulder and bruises of both shins.

Kay Stoddard, 18, of 637½ St. Clair Ave., "fairly good" condition with a large laceration of the forehead, possible skull fracture and possible jaw injury.

Jack Smith, 19, of 336 Indiana Ave., Chester, who suffered a laceration of the nose and eyebrow. He was treated at City Hospital and later released.

The patrol said the mishap occurred eight-tenths of a mile off State Route 30 in the Glenmoor area.

In another mishap Sunday at 2:40 p. m., Kenneth E. Strabley, 32, of 59 W. Main St., Salineville, suffered minor abrasions of the face and body when his truck rolled over on State Route 30.

The patrol said Strabley was driving west in a 1958 model truck when he rounded a slight curve, went left of center, came back on the highway, slid sideways and rolled over.

The mishap occurred six-tenths mile east of Bridge 30250 along Route 30. Strabley was cited for reckless operation, the patrol said.

George Stoffko, 22, of Girard was treated at City Hospital for abrasions of both arms and hands received when his auto crashed into a ditch Sunday at 3 p. m. near Rogers. He was driving at a high rate of speed, the patrol said. Stoffko was cited for reckless operation.

Lyle Jenkins, 16, of 244 S. Market St., East Palestine, was cited for driving left of center when he fell asleep at 6 a. m. Sunday and crashed into a utility pole along Highway 14 near Route 170. He escaped injury.

In one other accident Sunday, William Moats, 40, of Washington Court House was cited for failure to halt in the assured clear distance when he struck Ruth Keith, 18, of Canton on State Route 62 near Salem. Neither driver was injured.

Mrs. Ida Herron, 35, of Negley was injured when the door on the passenger side of her husband's auto suddenly opened, and the car upset as her husband, Paul, 35, attempted to prevent her from falling out of the vehicle.

The mishap occurred Saturday at 9 p. m. south of Rogers on Highway 428. She was taken to Salem City Hospital for treatment. The patrol said Herron lost control as he grabbed for his wife and the car upset.

Thomas Miller, 22, of 704 Daniels St., Toronto, was injured when he attempted to pass another car that was attemping a left turn, lost control, and crashed into a utility pole Saturday at 11:35 a. m. on Route 39 near Wellsville.

Miller sustained a possible broken left leg in the crash three and one half miles north of Wellsville. He was detained overnight in City Hospital and released Sunday.

Cars driven by Felix Zwierzchowski, 44, of Weirton and Phillip D. Colaizzi, 41, of Leetonia were involved in a crash Saturday at 4:13 p. m. on Route 7.

Stretch Drive Starts

Ohio Legislature Aiming At June 15 Adjournment

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's lawmakers have their eyes on a mid-June target date for winding up working sessions of the 104th General Assembly. They hope to call it quits June 15 or 16.

Much of the success of winding up the stretch drive on time depends upon the ability of the Senate Finance Committee to complete its action on the $2,040,000,000 appropriations bill to cover costs of running the state for the next two years.

Senate Finance Chairman William H. Deddens, R-Hamilton, has scheduled five hearings on the House-approved budget bill this week—one tonight, two Tuesday and two Wednesday. Hearings were started last week in the Senate.

If Deddens and his committee can complete their surgery on Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's budget by June 6 or 7, plans for winding up the assembly's work 10 days later probably can be realized.

The legislature then would reconvene about July 5 to consider any vetoes and take final adjournment.

But, meantime, the lawmakers have a lot of work to do. In order to provide more time for committee hearings each Thursday, the Senate will meet at 2:30 p.m., EDT, rather at noon, thereby lengthening the legislative week by 2½ hours. Later the House may follow suit and the legislators probably will meet on Fridays, too.

Committees have scheduled scores of bills for hearings during the week. In many instances, committees have scheduled hearings on bills already approved by one House. In another week or so, almost all bills behind will have been passed by one House and bills which have been passed by neither House will practically be relegated to the ashcan.

The second of three House-approved antigambling bills is scheduled for a hearing Tuesday night in the Senate Judiciary Committee. It increases penalties for horse - race bookmakers. Another bill stiffening penalties for numbers writing already has been reported back to the Senate floor.

The same committee tonight will study a House-approved bill to prohibit the state from establishing drive-in liquor stores.

The Senate Commerce and Labor Committee will hold a second hearing Tuesday morning on a bill to put Ohio counties in a position to get federal funds in connection with the new program to provide aid to dependent children of unemployed persons. The same committee will study, also, a House-approved bill banning racial discrimination in places of public accommodation.

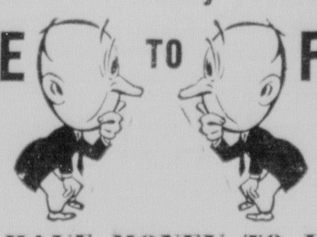

The Senate State Government Committee will hear two bills on horse racing. One would prohibit issuance of more than one 44-day race meeting permit to any single track in a county which has more than one running track. The other prohibits issuance of a running race permit to a track of less than one mile.

Some action is possible Tuesday night on a final decision on which congressional redistricting bill the House Elections Committee will support. Out of nearly a dozen redistricting proposals, the field has been cut to three by a subcommittee, all involving some change in southwestern Ohio to reduce the population of the 3rd Congressional District now made up of Montgomery and Butler counties. The district now has a population in excess of 700,000 and is the largest district in Ohio.

If no redistricting plan is agreed upon, the present 23 districts will stand and the 24th Ohio congressman will be elected statewide—at-large is the exact term.

Stretch Drive Starts

Ohio Legislature Aiming At June 15 Adjournment

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's lawmakers have their eyes on a mid-June target date for winding up working sessions of the 104th General Assembly. They hope to call it quits June 15 or 16.

Much of the success of winding up the stretch drive on time depends upon the ability of the Senate Finance Committee to complete its action on the $2,040,000,000 appropriations bill to cover costs of running the state for the next two years.

Senate Finance Chairman William H. Deddens, R-Hamilton, has scheduled five hearings on the House-approved budget bill this week—one tonight, two Tuesday and two Wednesday. Hearings were started last week in the Senate.

If Deddens and his committee can complete their surgery on Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's budget by June 6 or 7, plans for winding up the assembly's work 16 days later probably can be realized.

The legislature then would reconvene about July 5 to consider any vetoes and take final adjournment.

But, meantime, the lawmakers have a lot of work to do. In order to provide more time for committee hearings each Thursday, the Senate will meet at 2:30 p.m., EDT, rather at noon, thereby lengthening the legislative week by 2½ hours. Later the House may follow suit and the legislators probably will meet on Fridays, too.

Committees have scheduled scores of bills for hearings during the week. In many instances, committees have scheduled hearings on bills already approved by one House. In another week or so, almost all bills behind will have been passed by one House and bills which have been passed by neither House will practically be relegated to the ashcan.

The second of three House-approved antigambling bills is scheduled for a hearing Tuesday night in the Senate Judiciary Committee. It increases penalties for horse - race bookmakers. Another bill stiffening penalties for numbers writing already has been reported back to the Senate floor.

The same committee tonight will study a House-approved bill to prohibit the state from establishing drive-in liquor stores.

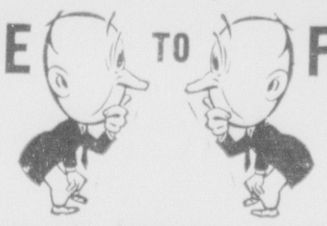

The Senate Commerce and Labor Committee will hold a second hearing Tuesday morning on a bill to put Ohio counties in a position to get federal funds in connection with the new program to provide aid to dependent children of unemployed persons. The same committee will study, also, a House-approved bill banning racial discrimination in places of public accommodation.

The Senate State Government Committee will hear two bills on horse racing. One would prohibit issuance of more than one 44-day race meeting permit to any single track in a county which has more than one running track. The other prohibits issuance of a running race permit to a track of less than one mile.

Some action is possible Tuesday night on a final decision on which congressional redistricting bill the House Elections Committee will support. Out of nearly a dozen redistricting proposals, the field has been cut to three by a subcommittee, all involving some change in southwestern Ohio to reduce the population of the 3rd Congressional District now made up of Montgomery and Butler counties. The district now has a population in excess of 700,000 and is the largest district in Ohio.

If no redistricting plan is agreed upon, the present 23 districts will stand and the 24th Ohio congressman will be elected statewide—at-large is the exact term.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm an airline stewardess who works odd hours. I have many friends, both pilots and stewardesses, who come to visist me at dawn, midnight or whenever they get into town. People who are not in this field don't understand that hours mean nothing to us.

This morning the woman who lives in the next apartment poked her head out the door to pick up her newspaper. I was just getting mine. She gave me a cold stare and said: "I wonder if your mother knows what kind of a life you're leading." Then she slammed the door.

Why are some characters so evil-minded? What can I do to keep people from thinking the wrong things? — MORALE GROUNDED.

Dear Grounded: Friends (male and female) coming and going at all hours of the day and night is unconventional behavior. Since you are in this type of work, however, you've got to learn to tolerate the raised eyebrows. Make no apologies and no excuses.

Might Mite

Dear Ann: I'm a mother who needs advice from an outsider. I can't talk about this to anyone face to face. I get too mad.

My 18-year-old son is handsome, smart and a good boy. He is 6 feet tall and a star athlete. He has the crazy idea that he's in love. You ought to see the girl. She's a peanut with a boy's haircut, 5 feet nothing and I'll bet she doesn't weigh 90 pounds. She bosses my son around as if she owned him and it burns me to a crisp.

Please tell me how I can break this up. If he marries this little runt I'll die.—JUST A MOTHER.

-:-

Dear Mother: Watch your blood pressure Mom. Don't knock the girl or he'll have to defend her. Be pleasant, and even complimentary, if you can. He'll probably get tired of her bossiness and drop her.

Bridesmaid's Lament

Dear Ann: My brother is being married and I was delighted when his fiancee asked me to be one of four bridesmaids. Since each of us is paying for her own gown and shoes I assumed we'd go down together to select the style, then get the bride's final okay.

Much to my surprise (as well as the disappointment of the other girls) the bride-to-be made the selection on her own. We were told to go to the shop for fittings and that was that.

I am 25, divorced and supporting a small child. The gown she selected would look good on a 17-year-old attending her first prom. I make all my own clothes and feel unhappy about spending this kind of money on a dress I don't like and will never wear again, especially since I could make one just like it for one-fourth the price.

Shall I tell her I can't afford the honor? I hate to hurt my brother in any way. Advise me please.—SEW WHAT.

Dear What: Since you say you can make a dress "just like it" for one-fourth the price, I suggest you get busy and whip up a copy.

If you pull out of the ceremony after having accepted your ro'e it will certainly create a problem between you and your future sister-in-law. It's not worth it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Auto Mishaps Hurt Children

Two youngsters were hurt slightly in separate weekend traffic mishaps in East Liverpool, police reported.

An East End youngster was injured when his bicycle was involved in a collision with an auto and a Youngstown boy was hurt when his mother's auto struck another in the rear.

Ricky Allen Lawrence, 8, son of Mrs. James Lawrence, 517 Virginia Ave., suffered an injured left ankle Saturday at 4:20 p. m. at Fox Alley and Virginia Ave. when his bicycle hit a halted 1953 model car operated by Frank J. Galleote, 42, of 1060 Pennsylvania Ave., police said.

Galleote told police he had halted in Fox Alley for the intersection with Virginia Ave. when the side of his car was hit by the boy's bicycle. The boy was riding on the Virginia Ave. sidewalk, he said. Officers reported the parents refused offers of medical treatment for the child.

Frank Chechetelli, 10, suffered lacerations of both legs in a collision Sunday at 1:45 p. m. on Dresden Ave. at W. 9th St. that involved a 1957 two-door driven by his mother, Mrs. Vada W. Chechetelli, 35, and a halted 1958 two-door sedan operated by Mrs. Marcella Gonze, 35, of McDonald, Pa., police said.

Mrs. Chechetelli told police Mrs. Gonze halted suddenly in front of her. The Youngstown woman said she applied her brakes, but her car skidded into the halted auto and shoved it forward into another car. The third car, which was undamaged, was driven away from the scene before the arrival of the investigating officer, police said.

Mrs. Gonze told police she stopped because a car in a line of traffic ahead of her was waiting to make a left turn. Mrs. Chechetelli took her son to a Youngstown physican for treatment, officers said.

Enthusiasm Releases Abundant Energy

It takes energy to reduce. An overweight individual, of course, has ample potential energy stored up in the excess pounds. The question is where do you get the mental energy needed to make the start. In other words, what can help you to hurdle the initial inertia?

Ida Jean Kain

While it seems far-fetched, one can compare the release of human energy with the miracle of atomic energy. In atomic energy there is a chain reaction —one particle releases tremendous amounts of energy by sparking a chain reaction.

You can spark a chain reaction within yourself. Desire, reinforced with enthusiasm, serves to activate energy. Pasteur once termed enthusiasm "the inner God."

THIS WONDER-WORKING force is of the spirit. When you get into the spirit of slimming, or anything else you want to do, you've got the energy. To continuously release needed energy, devise ways to rekindle enthusiasm.

A fascinating article, entitled "Energy" in the April issue of an ultra-chic fashion magazine, makes it clear that the factors that enable us to use our energies effectively cover the entire range of personality. The fuel that ignites energy is interest, zeal, and wholehearted desired focused on your goal and the ways to achieve it.

In order to slim down you must force nature to draw on the energy that is stored in the excess pounds. That is the principle by which weight is lost. Calorie control is the technique, but how do you take the irksomness out of calorie curbing?

That's where interest comes into the picture. It isn't dieting that is all-important, it is day-to-day living. Live each day fully, then eating will not assume abnormal emphasis. The reason for eating is to provide the body with fuel to cover physical needs.

It is when you substitute food for other satisfactions that can never be fulfilled through eating that you run into difficulty. If you take a mature attitude toward food and look upon scientific dieting as a means to help you to get what you want, it isn't hard to reduce.

ENTHUSIASM carries with it an excitement and an expectation of good. . .so you have a far better chance to succeed than you would if you were disgruntled about cutting calories.

All this adds up to thinking in a positive way about how to achieve your goal.

It takes effort to develop the interest and get into the activities that make life wonderfully satisfying. Ah, but there is the potent secret — by being willing to put forth the effort you get the energy.

Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for "Take Your Measure." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Surprised Motorist Finds Radiator Gone

Theft of hubcaps and other auto accessories is comparatively common, but a Gardendale man was surprised Saturday to discover the radiator had been removed bodily from his 1949 model car while it was parked about 25 feet from his home.

"This here's a frontier town, mister. When there's shootin', they get the wimmin and children off th' street and send for the marshal. That's me."

NEED PROTECTION?...SEE YOUR PRUDENTIAL AGENT

He might scare the "bad guys," but this young marshal knows that your family's insurance protection is a mite too involved to handle by himself. That's why he's deputized Prudential to help. Smart move, too, because Prudential's modern new Family Policy can help you provide for your wimmin and children at a very reasonable cost.

It's a versatile policy that places most of the insurance on Dad, where it belongs, but it also insures Mom and all the children—including new baby after 15 days; it provides accidental death benefits for both Mother and Dad; and the Plan can also be used to supplement retirement income. All these benefits are included in this one Family Policy . . . at one low monthly premium. Get protected, but don't call the marshal . . .

THE FUTURE BELONGS TO THOSE WHO PREPARE FOR IT · THE PRUDENTIAL HAS THE STRENGTH OF GIBRALTAR · A MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

PTA Head Raps U.S. Emphasis Upon 'Comforts'

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — "Many Americans are so bemused by the creature comforts that they seem to have forgotten the spirit of personal sacrifice that made this nation great," the national president of the Parent Teachers Association said today.

Mrs. James C. Parker, Grand Rapids, Mich., added, "There is nothing wrong with the creature comforts as such, it is the unmerited place they hold in relation to the things that are really important.

"And it is time, past time, for this country to recognize those things that are really important."

Mrs. Parker, finishing a three-year term as president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, said in an interview:

"The great concern in this country with the creature comforts is perfectly evident in many cases where school bond issues are voted down. Many of the voters could afford the higher taxes to build schools, but they refuse to pay this most necessary of all their bills."

The 65th annual convention of the national congress opens today.

Court Dismisses Ratterman Case

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — Police Court Judge Joseph Rolf Saturday dismissed charges against George Ratterman growing out of a vice raid. He did so at the request of Prosecutor Thomas Hirschfeld.

Hirschfeld said he had no advance knowledge that a photographer would testify about a picture-taking setup in the case.

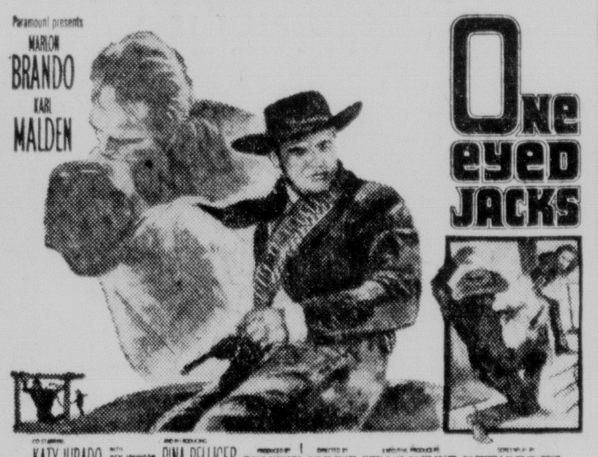

"Had I had the information on the testimony of the Thomas Withrows there probably wouldn't have been any prosecution whatever," he said.

He told Judge Rolf "I don't think this is a matter for police court. I think it should be investigated by the grand jury and I move to dismiss the case."

Judge Rolf said, "let the case be dismissed" the courtroom erupted in a hubub with well-wishers and reporters crowding around the Rattermans to congratulate them and talking with Hirschfeld.

The judge left the courtroom immediately after his ruling.

Johnson Sets Asian Report

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson flew homeward today after a rigorous six-nation swing through South Asia to reassure America's allies from Formosa to Pakistan that Communist advances can and will be opposed.

Johnson said he came away from Asia "strengthened and encouraged."

"I believe the world will be better tomorrow than it is today," he declared.

After an overnight rest stop in Athens, Johnson and his party were flying today to Bermuda, with a refueling stop en route in the Azores.

In Bermuda, the vice president will wind up his report and recommendations to President Kennedy. He flies to Washington on Wednesday.

Before taking off, Johnson had a 45-minute meeting with Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis. The two leaders exchanged assurances of unity and support in meeting any threat to Greece's freedom.

PTA Head Raps U.S. Emphasis Upon 'Comforts'

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — "Many Americans are so bemused by the creature comforts that they seem to have forgotten the spirit of personal sacrifice that made this nation great," the national president of the Parent Teachers Association said today.

Mrs. James C. Parker, Grand Rapids, Mich., added, "There is nothing wrong with the creature comforts as such, it is the unmerited place they hold in relation to the things that are really important.

"And it is time, past time, for this country to recognize those things that are really important."

Mrs. Parker, finishing a three-year term as president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, said in an interview:

"The great concern in this country with the creature comforts is perfectly evident in many cases where school bond issues are voted down. Many of the voters could afford the higher taxes to build schools, but they refuse to pay this most necessary of all their bills."

The 65th annual convention of the national congress opens today.

Court Dismisses Ratterman Case

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — Police Court Judge Joseph Rolf Saturday dismissed charges against George Ratterman growing out of a vice raid. He did so at the request of Prosecutor Thomas Hirschfeld.

Hirschfeld said he had no advance knowledge that a photographer would testify about a picture-taking setup in the case.

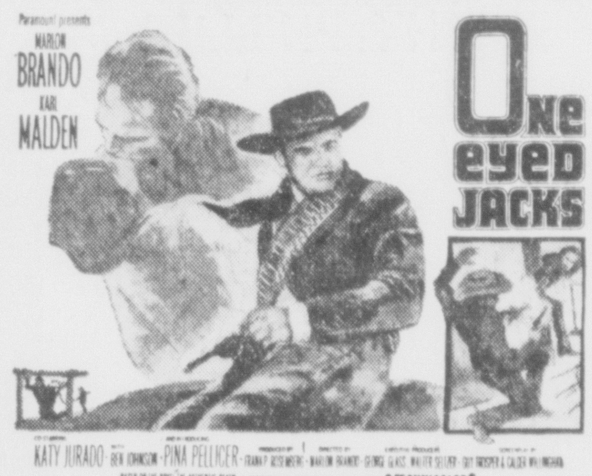

"Had I had the information on the testimony of the Thomas Withrows there probably wouldn't have been any prosecution whatever," he said.

He told Judge Rolf "I don't think this is a matter for police court. I think it should be investigated by the grand jury and I move to dismiss the case."

Judge Rolf said, "let the case be dismissed" the courtroom erupted in a hubub with well-wishers and reporters crowding around the Rattermans to congratulate them and talking with Hirschfeld.

The judge left the courtroom immediately after his ruling.

Johnson Sets Asian Report

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson flew homeward today after a rigorous six-nation swing through South Asia to reassure America's allies from Formosa to Pakistan that Communist advances can and will be opposed.

Johnson said he came away from Asia "strengthened and encouraged."

"I believe the world will be better tomorrow than it is today," he declared.

After an overnight rest stop in Athens, Johnson and his party were flying today to Bermuda, with a refueling stop en route in the Azores.

In Bermuda, the vice president will wind up his report and recommendations to President Kennedy. He flies to Washington on Wednesday.

Before taking off, Johnson had a 45-minute meeting with Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis. The two leaders exchanged assurances of unity and support in meeting any threat to Greece's freedom.

Local Green Goods Waited

Memorial Day traditionally means that locally - grown fresh fruits and vegetables will begin to appear on the market in good supply, Richard Skinner, marketing agent with the Co-operative Extension Service in Canfield, reported.

Rhubarb and asparagus are the first two local crops that appear on the market. Next will come strawberries, cherries and peaches along the fruit line. And peas, corn and tomatoes along the vegetable line.

Economical buys now at local vegetable counters include the salad greens endive and escarole. Head lettuce prices seem subject to wide fluctuation but there is much high quality lettuce on the market this week.

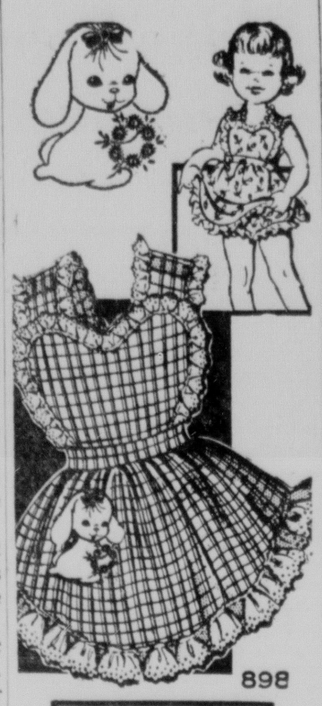

For the Memorial Day picnic one may want to try Bibb lettuce. Bibb lettuce is the most tender of lettuce. It has a small loose flat head. The outer leaves are a dark green and the inner are a creamy white. Bibb lettuce usually is in a package of two for 39 cents.

More strawberries are appearing on the market. Local berries will not be available for another couple of weeks. While the price of the berries has declined they should not be considered as economical unless they get down as low as 50 to 55 cents per quart and 30 cents per pint.

Bananas continue to be favorably priced. Fresh pineapple will be on the market for another month. Grapefruit and oranges are near the end of their marketing season. However, there are some attractive price tags on grapefruit. Some stores will be featuring watermelons this week. They are coming in from the Southern states.

Families planning a Memorial Day picnic will want to be sure and include eggs as they are not only tasty and nutritious but low priced. Only a short time ago large Grade A's were in the 70-cent range. Check the market now, here is a real value in this area's food markets.

Eichmann Helps Prosecution On Nazi Documents

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Adolf Eichmann is helping his Israeli prosecutors by calling their attention to gaps in the parade of documents submitted against him.

The Israeli prosecution, accusing Eichmann with primary responsibility in the Nazi program of Europe's Jews, has presented 800 exhibits so far, some of them containing multiple documents.

Eichmann, bald and saturnine at 55, has kept a running account of them all in his glass-enclosed dock.

But trial sources disclosed the defendant has not been satisfied with the presentation of papers drawn from the Gestapo's files.

"He has been sending his own written notes through his counsel to the prosecution, insisting on having documents we do not have," a prosecution source said.

"We have gotten them lately, almost every day. When we check back, we find he is right and something is missing. Then we check what is missing and most often find a document he would be far better off had it been forgotten. In a curious way he is helping us keep our own files in order."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Can you give me some tips for the neat ironing of tucks?

A. To keep them neat and flat, iron them until they are absolutely dry — otherwise, they will pucker and look wavy. Vertical tucks should be pulled taut and ironed lengthwise, while horizontal tucks should be ironed by starting on the top and working to the bottom.

Q. How can I prevent the dyes in old stained woodwork from showing through when I paint over it?

A. You can avoid this trouble if you'll first apply a coat of aluminum housepaint over the woodwork.

Hints Presented On Wood Cornice

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Question: I would like to build a wood cornice on top of one of our windows. I have a jigsaw for cutting out a curved pattern at the bottom part of the cornice. Are there any tips you can give me?

Answer: The cornice should be built a few inches wider than the window if the window is narrow. This will give the window the appearance of being wider than it actually is.

If the window is wide but short, the cornice should be attached a few inches higher than the window. The design of the cornice depends on individual preference, but be sure you make pattern markings on the wood before cutting.

This is done by making a pattern of heavy paper and cardboard, laying it on the wood and marking around the outside edges of it. You will be certain then that the design comes out the way you want it. Be sure you use wall anchors of some kind to attach the cornice to the wall if it is plaster.

Even though nails or screw may hold in plaster at the time of insulation, they usually work loose after a time. One other thing: paint or otherwise finish the cornice before you put it up.

Cars Hit At Lisbon

LISBON — A collision Sunday at 7:20 p. m. on W. Spruce St. at N. Beaver St. involved cars driven by H. L. Eddy of Columbiana and Mark Arnold of E. Washington St., police said. There was damage to the front of Arnold's car and the rear of Eddy's, officers said.

Painting Tile Proves Easy If Done Right

NEW YORK — There's no need to look wistfully at the photos of bright, colorful bathrooms and kitchens in magazine advertisements and sign resignedly: "I'd love it, but I can't afford it."

For just a few dollars worth of quality enamel you can transform your plain, tired white-tiled bathroom or your kitchen into a modern, cheerful room in your own choice of vibrant colors or soft pastels. And this is true whether you are a householder, a hotel owner or a professional remodler of old homes. So says the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, Inc.

Painting tile is easy if you do it right. First of all the tile must be clean. Wash away all dirt, grime and dried soap film with detergent or cleanser. Rinse well and wait until the surface has dried.

At the same time repair any damaged tile with a suitable cement and replace any lost or badly broken tiles. Check that the mortar or grout between tiles is sound. If it isn't, replace it.

Now for the painting. Some experts advise roughing up the tiles with steel wool or sandpaper first. Your first coat is the most important. It must adhere firmly to the tile and provide a foundation for the decorative topcoat. Recommended are an enamel undercoat or an oil-base primer-sealer.

The top coat can be either a high quality gloss or semi-gloss enamel, with gloss being preferred because it is more water resistant and more washable than either semi-gloss or flat enamels.

Your selection of enamel colors probably will depend on the colors you are using for the walls. The most becoming colors to most people are the ones that have some red in them, such as peach, pink, rose and soft coral.

These cast a warm glow and give a healthy, radiant look to complexions. Lilac shades are also good choices, provided they lean toward the pink side. If it's green you prefer, avoid the yellow greens because light reflected from them will make you look unhealthy. And that's no way to start the day.

Whichever type of enamel you decide to use to beautify your bath, be sure that you buy a quality enamel made by a reputable manufacturer and sold by a reputable dealer. Quality enamels adhere better, hold their color brilliance and last longer.

Wellsville Man Cited On Charge Of Assault

Nick Lioi, 307 13th St., Wellsville, was taken into custody Saturday morning on a charge of assault and battery on his former wife, Mrs. Jo Ann Lioi, 228 W. 7th St., police reported.

Officers said Mrs. Lioi went to headquarters about 2:30 a. m. and said the back door of her home was open and she believed her exhusband was on the premises. Police advised her to return home and a cruiser was sent to investigate.

Patrolman S. E. Hayes said when he arrived he saw Lioi and his divorced wife struggling in the doorway of her home. Lioi was released on $82.50 bond for a hearing this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Lioi entered a not guilty plea when arraigned before Judge Chertoff and his hearing was continued until Wednesday at 9 a.m. to permit Patrolman Hayes to appear. The judge ordered his bond continued.

Painting Tile Proves Easy If Done Right

NEW YORK — There's no need to look wistfully at the photos of bright, colorful bathrooms and kitchens in magazine advertisements and sign resignedly: "I'd love it, but I can't afford it."

For just a few dollars worth of quality enamel you can transform your plain, tired white-tiled bathroom or your kitchen into a modern, cheerful room in your own choice of vibrant colors or soft pastels. And this is true whether you are a householder, a hotel owner or a professional remodler of old homes. So says the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, Inc.

Painting tile is easy if you do it right. First of all the tile must be clean. Wash away all dirt, grime and dried soap film with detergent or cleanser. Rinse well and wait until the surface has dried.

At the same time repair any damaged tile with a suitable cement and replace any lost or badly broken tiles. Check that the mortar or grout between tiles is sound. If it isn't, replace it.

Now for the painting. Some experts advise roughing up the tiles with steel wool or sandpaper first. Your first coat is the most important. It must adhere firmly to the tile and provide a foundation for the decorative topcoat. Recommended are an enamel undercoat or an oil-base primer-sealer.

The top coat can be either a high quality gloss or semi-gloss enamel, with gloss being preferred because it is more water resistant and more washable than either semi-gloss or flat enamels.

Your selection of enamel colors probably will depend on the colors you are using for the walls. The most becoming colors to most people are the ones that have some red in them, such as peach, pink, rose and soft coral.

These cast a warm glow and give a healthy, radiant look to complexions. Lilac shades are also good choices, provided they lean toward the pink side. If it's green you prefer, avoid the yellow greens because light reflected from them will make you look unhealthy. And that's no way to start the day.

Whichever type of enamel you decide to use to beautify your bath, be sure that you buy a quality enamel made by a reputable manufacturer and sold by a reputable dealer. Quality enamels adhere better, hold their color brilliance and last longer.

Hints Presented On Wood Cornice

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Question: I would like to build a wood cornice on top of one of our windows. I have a jigsaw for cutting out a curved pattern at the bottom part of the cornice. Are there any tips you can give me?

Answer: The cornice should be built a few inches wider than the window if the window is narrow. This will give the window the appearance of being wider than it actually is.

If the window is wide but short, the cornice should be attached a few inches higher than the window. The design of the cornice depends on individual preference, but be sure you make pattern markings on the wood before cutting.

This is done by making a pattern of heavy paper and cardboard, laying it on the wood and marking around the outside edges of it. You will be certain then that the design comes out the way you want it. Be sure you use wall anchors of some kind to attach the cornice to the wall if it is plaster.

Even though nails or screw may hold in plaster at the time of insulation, they usually work loose after a time. One other thing: paint or otherwise finish the cornice before you put it up.

Cars Hit At Lisbon

LISBON — A collision Sunday at 7:20 p. m. on W. Spruce St. at N. Beaver St. involved cars driven by H. L. Eddy of Columbiana and Mark Arnold of E. Washington St., police said. There was damage to the front of Arnold's car and the rear of Eddy's, officers said.

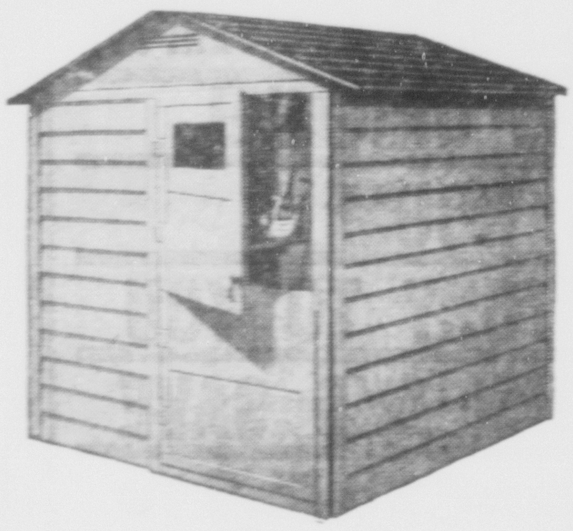

Wellsville Man Cited On Charge Of Assault

Nick Lioi, 307 13th St., Wellsville, was taken into custody Saturday morning on a charge of assault and battery on his former wife, Mrs. Jo Ann Lioi, 228 W. 7th St., police reported.

Officers said Mrs. Lioi went to headquarters about 2:30 a. m. and said the back door of her home was open and she believed her ex-husband was on the premises. Police advised her to return home and a cruiser was sent to investigate.

Patrolman S. E. Hayes said when he arrived he saw Lioi and his divorced wife struggling in the doorway of her home. Lioi was released on $82.50 bond for a hearing this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Lioi entered a not guilty plea when arraigned before Judge Chertoff and his hearing was continued until Wednesday at 9 a.m. to permit Patrolman Hayes to appear. The judge ordered his bond continued.

Housing Demands Differ

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A concern of many individuals and communities is planning housing for the aged. Each year some 400,000 Americans reach the age of 65.

"Their requirements are vastly different from younger, active people," points out interior designer Eleanor Pepper. "When housing is considered for them, it must be thought of in its entirety, an over-all problem."

Miss Pepper has spent 10 years researching the project. She took an active part in the recent symposium of the Institute on Producing Housing for older people sponsored by the National Council on the Aging.

The meetings in New York were attended by builders, sociologists, economists, bankers.

EASE OF maintenance and economy must be achieved without sacrificing cheerfulness, she says, "and today there are many new products and materials that can answer that need." She explains:

"Color is a vital consideration because older people do not get out often and need vistas within rooms. We must think in two dimensions as well as three. Their quarters are smaller usually, and should have spatial variety — a low ceiling entrance hall that enters into a room with a higher ceiling. Or achieve spatial effects with color — darker on the ceiling of an entrance hall, lighter on the ceiling of the adjoining room.

"Softer colors rather than intense colors are kinder to older people whose complexions are sallower, hair gray or faded. Rosier colors in a bedroom make them look and feel warmer. Warm peach tones will stimulate appetites in the dining area."

Background colors in the living area should be soft whether on wall, ceiling or floor. A more vivid color could be used on one small wall, ceiling or floor. A more vivid color could be used on one small wall to point up a favorite piece of furniture or art object.

"Furniture must be thought of in terms of comfort and easy maintenance. Can an older person rise easily from the sofa or chair? Is the coffee table too low, requiring deep bends? It is easier to keep wood chair arms clean than the upholstered type. Plastic laminated furniture or oil-finished woods are easy - care items.

"ECONOMY upkeep of furnishings must be considered. Older people cannot usually afford help, and they cannot do heavy work, so the home must reflect the idea. New wood finished products are warm and offer unlimited possibilities in the home. A new plywood (perma-guard) has a clear plastic coating permanently fused over the wood, permitting the natural wood grain to shine through. Available in shiny or mat finish it is ideal for walls, panels, doors as it will not show fingerprints.

It requires no upkeep. A new wallboard (masonite) is embossed. A wallboard (gypsum) has a vinyl fabric fused through it for ease of construction and appearance. An asbestos cement board with a fused ceramic surface (Glasweld) available in slabs four feet by eight feet is in soft finishes that may be used around the wall of a bathtub. It is ideal in perforated slabs for radiator fronts. It is useful in structural panels and door cabinets.

"Floors should reflect the ease of maintenance, avoiding materials that gather dust in cracks. Linoleum would be ideal if it could be improved. Carpet is best to cushion the shock of bumps and falls of older people. If rubber cushioned (fused to carpet backing) it prevents seepage from spilled liquids. If a separate pad is required it should be of hair with a rubber sheet, top and bottom.

"LIGHTING must offer a high level of illumination. Base outlets should be higher so deep bending is not required. Three-way switches are necessary to light the path ahead, and so the light can be extinguished without going back. One switch in the bedroom should light the entire house when necessary.

"Light sources should avoid glare, but not be so dull or monotonous or so restless that they spoil continuity. Wrong light effects colors or the room, fabric, wood, paintings. The light from outdoors must be considered. It will throw different light from a red brick wall than from a landscape. Light helps create the atmosphere of living. If the room is dull, a light rug should be used on the floor. Heavy curtains may be required to shut out glare. These things must be considered from the standpoint of the room exposure.

"Safety and convenience must be uppermost in furnishing the home, particularly in the kitchen. Stove controls should be at the front so there is less chance of being scalded or burned by reaching over a burner."

Conditioning Units Control Humidity Too

CHICAGO — Among the many benefits of air conditioning in your home is that it controls the humidity as effectively as it controls the temperature.

Without referring to the old saw about the heat and the humidity, the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau points out that there are many days when cooling is not needed but the humidity is uncomfortably high.

To control this humidity when cooling may not be required, air-conditioning equipment is now designed to remove the moisture in your home without lowering the comfortable room temperature.

The room temperature found acceptable to most people is about 76 degrees, while humidity should be between 50 to 60 per cent. With today's modern air-conditioning units, both temperature and humidity are controlled to meet these conditions.

Illustrating the need for humidity control with air conditioning is the estimate that in homes north of the Ohio River there is a need for moisture removal on more than three times as many days as cooling is required.

Your heating-cooling contractor is qualified to recommend the equipment that will meet your needs and to provide the proper installation. The result will be comfortable and healthy conditioned air at all times.

'Bomb' Halts Traffic

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A report that a bomb had been placed under a bridge west of here caused traffic to be backed up for miles in both directions on heavily traveled U.S. 40 late Sunday, the Highway Patrol reported. The patrol said the warning was received by the Madison County sheriff's office concerning the bridge over Darby Creek east of West Jefferson. Officers halted traffic and made a search of the bridge area that turned up nothing.

Pirates Wind Up On Top, 13-11, In Comedy Of Errors

Hawkins, Grant Team Up, Hurl Tribe To 'Twin' Victories

LA Tops Frisco Again, 3-2

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers won their third straight from San Francisco Sunday, 3-2, and moved into a virtual first place tie with the Giants in the National League pennant race.

St. Louis, led by Stan Musial, who drove in five runs with a home run, double and single, snapped a six-game losing streak, sweeping a pair from Chicago 6-3 and 3-0.

Pittsburgh watched Philadelphia score nine runs in the third inning, then came back to defeat the Phillies 13-11, as Don Hoak drove in five runs, the last two with a bases-loaded single in the ninth.

Cincinnati nipped Milwaukee 7-6 on pinch hitter Gus Bell's ninth inning double, then lost the second game 3-2 when Vada Pinson was nipped at the plate in the ninth inning.

A home crowd of 41,495 saw the Giants drop their third straight one-run decision to the Dodgers.

DON HOAK
Drives In 5 For Bucs.

Sandy Koufax held the Giants to four hits for his fourth victory. Los Angeles got only seven off loser Billy Loes but two of them were home runs—by Johnny Roseboro and Jim Gilliam—accounting for all the runs in the fifth.

The Phillies scored nine runs in the third but the Pirates struck back, finally tying the score 9-9 on Don Hoak's three-run homer in the sixth. It was 11-11 in the ninth when Hoak singled with the bases loaded to drive in the winning runs. Pittsburgh used seven pitchers and the Phils made five errors to give the Pirates seven unearned runs.

Henry Aaron slammed a two-run homer, his sixth of the season, to give the Braves their split with Cincinnati. The Reds won the opener in the ninth when Eddie Kasko singled and scored on a double by pinch hitter Gus Bell. Cincinnati almost pulled out the second game in the ninth. They made it 3-2 on Gene Freese's homer to knock out starter Carl Willey.

Relief pitcher Claude Raymond yielded singles to Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson but Pinson was nipped at the plate.

Carry Back Seen Good Bet To Make Sweep

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — As Carry Back began a week's rest at Garden State Park today, even his severest critics admitted the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner has a good chance to capture the final leg of racing's triple crown.

If he wins the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes in New York June 3, Carry Back will become only the ninth 3-year-old ever to win all three races. The last horse to do it was Calumet Farm's Citation in 1948.

Carry Back is supposed to be unfashionably bred. His dam, the maiden mare Joppy, once was barred for refusing to run.

But there was nothing coy about the come-from-behind colt Saturday as he staged another late rush to win the $178,700-Preakness. The victory was worth $126,200 to his owner, Mrs. Katherine Price, and made her Dorchester Farm the leading money-winning stable so far this year with $459,129 in purses.

His time for the mile and three-sixteenths was 1:57 3-5, three seconds off the Pimlico record. Jockey Johnny Sellers, the nation's leading rider, said he didn't try to force Carry Back, but waited until he was ready to make his run.

If there was an upset in the Preakness, it was Leonard P. Sasso's Globemaster finishing second instead of Fred W. Hooper's Crozier, the No. 2 horse behind Carry Back in the Derby.

Carry Back paid $4, $3.20 and $2.20 and Globemaster $8 and $3.40. Crozier, four lengths back of Globemaster, returned $2.40.

Indians Cruise Into 2nd

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —If pitching is the key ingredient for baseball success, the Cleveland Indians are mixing big portions of that pennant dough.

For the first time in almost five years, two Cleveland pitchers threw a doubleheader shutout at the opposition. The Minnesota Twins were the victims Sunday as Wynn Hawkins (4-2) and Jim (Mudcat) Grant (3-0) spun the 9-0 and 2-0 gems.

Hawkins, the Tribe's "Sunday special," won his fourth Sabbath outing and third complete job with a two-hitter. Then Grant, who whipped the transplanted Washington Senators for the 17th time in 19 decisions, gave the Twins only three hits in the nightcap.

It was a big day for the Indians, who marked up their eighth triumph in the last nine games and sailed into second place 3½ games behind front-running Detroit. During that span, Cleveland hurlers have tossed four shutouts.

The last Cleveland double shutout was July 29, 1956 when Herb Score blanked Baltimore 3-0 on four hits and Hank Aguirre won a seven-hitter by a 4-0 count.

WYNN HAWKINS
Limits Twins To 2 Hits.

Hawkins had an easy job because his mates backed him with an 18-hit attack and packed all their runs into the first four frames. Johnny Temple had four hits and Jim Piersall three, including a two-run homer.

The New Waterford, Ohio, right-hander permitted only four runners and none reached second base. Pedro Ramos (3-4), first of four Twin hurlers, was the loser.

Grant, pitching his second straight three-hitter, had a tougher time because he had a shaky lead. He started against Don Lee (0-1). Risking the wrath of Civil War buffs, it could be said that the outcome of the second game repeated the story of 96 years ago—it's still Grant over Lee.

The Indians gave Grant the only run he needed in the second inning. He got the other himself.

Willie Kirkland rapped a double and stopped at third on John Romano's single. Woodie Held singled home Kirkland. After Bubba Phillips banged into a double play, Grant sent in Romano with a single up the middle.

Ramos came back at this point and pitched beautiful ball for 5 1-3 innings, blanking the Tribe on three hits. Ray Moore followed with two hitless innings in the losing cause.

Cox-Merchants Continue To Roll With 3rd In Row

East Liverpool's entry in the County-City League — Cox-Merchants — had little trouble chalking up its third straight success Sunday by walloping Columbiana, 16-3, on the Columbiana diamond.

Manager John Andrason's squad remained the only undefeated team in the loop. Salem topped Negley 5-1 and East palestine pounded out a 17-5 victory over Leetonia Dan-Dee.

Breaking on top with four runs in the first inning, the Merchants got off on the right foot but Columbiana came back with three markers in the second frame. The East Liverpool nine added three more in the fifth inning then pushed across six runs in the sixth to clinch the tilt.

Veteran Dick Chamberlain and Jim Burkes shared mound duties and only gave up six hits between them. Chamberlain fanned 10 and Burkes five. Burkes received credit for the victory.

Cox-Merchants stroked 13 hits and took advantage of five Columbiana errors. Bob Campbell and third baseman Lepock shared hitting honors for the locals with three hits each. Eight different players wound up in the hit column.

East Liverpool plays at Salem Wednesday while East Palestine goes to Negley and Columbiana travels to Leetonia.

Potters Finish Fifth In District Golf Meet

East Liverpool High failed to defend its District golf title finishing fifth in the rain Saturday at Belmont Hills Country Club at St. Clairsville.

Coshocton won the team title with 335. Zanesville was runnerup at 344, Martins Ferry 352, Steubenville Big Red 354 and East Liverpool 357. Thirteen teams were entered in the district meet.

East Liverpool's Bob Putt finished third, but missed qualifying for the state meet by one place. Only the first two medalists are eligible for state competition. Medalist honors went to Dick Baker of Coshocton who fired a 76 over the par 72 course. Jim Brown of Martins Ferry was next with 77. Putt took third by turning in a 78.

Other scores by Potter golfers included Rick Crable 86, Bob Gilmore 92 and Dave Thorne 101.

No Potter Runners Qualify For State

No East Liverpool runners qualified for the state meet Saturday during the district trials at Bellaire. East Liverpool scored four points, when Bill Flanigan, the Potters' crack quarter-miler finished fourth and matched his school record of 53.6 and the mile relay team missed tieing a school mark by one and one-tenth seconds recording a 3:38.4 clocking to come in fourth. The team included Clyde Griffith, Joe Thompson, Bud Myers and Flanigan.

Wellsville's Bob Kiggans also failed to qualify in the high jump. Bellaire captured the district title.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Don Hoak, Pirates — Drove in five runs with a three-run homer in the sixth inning and a two-run bases-loaded single in the ninth which broke an 11-11 tie and gave the Pirates a 13-11 triumph over the Phillies.

Pitching — Wynn Hawkins and Jim Grant, Indians — The two right-handers doled out five hits between them as the Indians swept a 9-0 and 2-0 doubleheader from Minnesota.

Record Qualifying Average Set In Indianapolis Trials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Thirty-two American auto racing veterans and British road racing champion Jack Brabham will make up the fastest field ever lined up in the 50-year-old 500-mile auto race May 30.

A record qualifying average of 145.302 miles an hour was set in two weekends of qualifying that ended Sunday.

Last year's Memorial Day field set the previous record of 144.070 and 18 of its starters would not have made the program for this year's golden anniversary race.

Eight newcomers, including Brabham, helped boost the average for the 10-mile tests.

Eddie Sachs of Center Valley, Pa., who has failed to finish in four Memorial Day starts, was the fastest qualifier of the two weekends with a 147.251 on opening day, good for $2,200 and the No. 1 starting position a week from Tuesday.

Detroit Wins, Shows Lead Of 3½ Games; Yanks Split

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland took over undisputed possession of second place in the American League, 3½ games behind Detroit, by handing Minnesota a double shutout, 9-0 and 2-0 in Sunday's doubleheader.

Washington jumped from eighth to sixth place with a 6-2 and 7-2 sweep from Los Angeles. New York moved into third place, past Minnesota, dividing a doubleheader with Baltimore. The Yankees won the opener 4-2 and the Orioles the second game 3-2.

Detroit defeated Kansas City 5-3 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. The second game was postponed until tonight because of rain. Chicago's White Sox nipped Boston 6-5 in 10 innings of their first game. The Red Sox came back to win the nightcap 4-1 behind rookie Art Schwall, who was making his major league debut.

The five hits made by Minnesota were only two more than the fewest made by an American League club in a doubleheader. The Indians collected 28 in the twin bill, six by Johnny Temple, who took over the league's batting lead with .360. The only thing Minnesota fans had to cheer about was Lennie Green, who hit safely in each game to extend his hitting streak through 18 games.

Steve Boros, rookie third baseman, drove in four Detroit runs with a single, double and home run to help Lary win his seventh game in eight decisions. Kansas City southpaw Bud Daley lost his fifth.

Whitey Ford, helped by Roger Maris' fourth home run in as many games, and seventh of the season, won his fifth game for the Yankees in the opener against Baltimore. Steve Barber, Baltimore southpaw, helped win his own game with a two-run single in the seventh after Yankee receiver John Blanchard dropped Gene Stephens' two-out foul pop.

Art Schwall, a 23-year-old, 6-6 right-hander summoned from Seattle, made his major league debut a winning one as he pitched the Red Sox to a 4-1 triumph over the White Sox. Gary Geiger's two-run homer and a couple of sparkling catches featured the Red Sox victory. The White Sox won the opener on Jim Landis' two-run homer in the 10th inning.

Washington jumped from eighth to sixth with its double triumph over Los Angeles. Willie Tasby's two-run double broke a 2-2 tie in the opener and Chuck Hinton drove in four runs in the second game with two singles and his first major league home run. Dale Long, Billy Klaus and Tasby homered for the Senators in the second game. Right-hander Bennie Daniels and left-hander Hal Woodeshick posted the victories.

Detroit defeated Kansas City 5-3 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. The second game was postponed until tonight because of rain. Chicago's White Sox nipped Boston 6-5 in 10 innings of their first game. The Red Sox came back to win the nightcap 4-1 behind rookie Art Schwall, who was making his major league debut.

The five hits made by Minnesota were only two more than the fewest made by an American League club in a doubleheader. The Indians collected 28 in the twin bill, six by Johnny Temple, who took over the league's batting lead with .360. The only thing Minnesota fans had to cheer about was Lennie Green, who hit safely in each game to extend his hitting streak through 18 games.

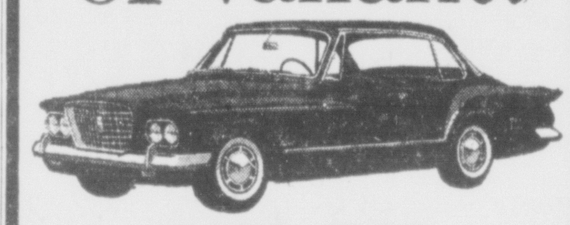

Steve Boros, rookie third baseman, drove in four Detroit runs with a single, double and home run to help Lary win his seventh game in eight decisions. Kansas City southpaw Bud Daley lost his fifth.

Whitey Ford, helped by Roger Maris' fourth home run in as many games, and seventh of the season, won his fifth game for the Yankees in the opener against Baltimore. Steve Barber, Baltimore southpaw, helped win his own game with a two-run single in the seventh after Yankee receiver John Blanchard dropped Gene Stephens' two-out foul pop.

Art Schwall, a 23-year-old, 6-6 right-hander summoned from Seattle, made his major league debut a winning one as he pitched the Red Sox to a 4-1 triumph over the White Sox. Gary Geiger's two-run homer and a couple of sparkling catches featured the Red Sox victory. The White Sox won the opener on Jim Landis' two-run homer in the 10th inning.

Washington jumped from eighth to sixth with its double triumph over Los Angeles. Willie Tasby's two-run double broke a 2-2 tie in the opener and Chuck Hinton drove in four runs in the second game with two singles and his first major league home run. Dale Long, Billy Klaus and Tasby homered for the Senators in the second game. Right-hander Bennie Daniels and left-hander Hal Woodeshick posted the victories.

Palmer Is Faced With Suspension

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, America's top golfer the last two years, said today that i, the PGA suspends him for six months he will play exhibitions.

Palmer says he hasn't made up his mind whether to play in the International Cup matches in San Juan, P.R., or the Memphis Open. Both events are set for June 1-4.

If Palmer, getting ready to defend his U.S. Open Crown, plays in San Juan he faces a six-month suspension and a $500 fine for skipping the Memphis Open which is co-sponsored by the PGA.

"I can't say I'll never play in Memphis," Palmer said. "I might want to play there some day. If I go to San Juan and get a suspension I will play exhibitions. I have to make a living. I have a wife and two children."

Palmer Is Faced With Suspension

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, America's top golfer the last two years, said today that if the PGA suspends him for six months he will play exhibitions.

Palmer says he hasn't made up his mind whether to play in the International Cup matches in San Juan, P.R., or the Memphis Open. Both events are set for June 1-4.

If Palmer, getting ready to defend his U.S. Open Crown, plays in San Juan he faces a six-month suspension and a $500 fine for skipping the Memphis Open which is co-sponsored by the PGA.

"I can't say I'll never play in Memphis," Palmer said. "I might want to play there some day. If I go to San Juan and get a suspension I will play exhibitions. I have to make a living. I have a wife and two children."

Assembly Stages 'Show'

By DUANE E. CROFT
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Wednesday is the favorite visiting day in the Statehouse when the General Assembly is in session.

Throngs of students and adult groups from all over the state fill the rotunda, the corridors, assorted offices and the two legislative chambers all day long.

If their aim is to see exciting debate, they come at their own risk, since it is virtually impossible to predict just when the legislative process is going to burst into the full bloom of controversy.

THE PEOPLE who chose last Wednesday to take a look at state government hit the jackpot. Both the Senate and the House put on spectacular "floor shows" featuring top-notch parliamentary maneuvering.

If some of the onlookers jammed in the galleries were confused by the goings-on, they should not be embarrassed. A good many of their elected spokesmen on the floor were in the same boat.

The Senate, you will remember, was faced with a surprise move by the Democrats to revive a community college bill that had been killed previously in the Senate Education and Health Committee.

THE VEHICLE was a sort of substitute bill authorizing technical institutes, which was introduced by Committee Chairman Ross Pepple, R-Lima, after the demise of the college measure. The new legislation was on the calendar for what looked like a rather routine vote.

But Minority Leader Frank W. King, D-Toledo, moved to amend it by striking out everything in it and reinserting the language of the dead community college bill.

The verbal melee that followed, freely using his gavel to keep things straight, has become history. The upshot was that one Democrat, Sen. J. Sherman Porter, D-Gallipolis, who prefers extension of state university branches, voted against the revived bill and three Republicans who had favored community colleges all along went with the Democrats, giving their maneuver the votes it needed to succeed.

House Liquor Battle

The House Wrangle was over one section of a bill aimed at cracking down on liquor sales to minors. The outcome of that battle also has been amply recorded, with foes of the original proposal taking credit for beating what they called the liquor lobby's attempt to give tavern keepers an escape route around the stiff law in minor sales.

But in the meantime, the parliamentary pyrotechnics nad spectators sitting on the edges of their seats as if they were watching Fourth of July fireworks.

THE VISITORS who witnessed one or the other of the shows no doubt went away feeling they had got their journey's worth.

Pace May Ease Off

The really disappointed people were the regular Statehouse reporters. After sitting through hours of routine floor sessions, they would like to have taken in both debates, but couldn't be in two houses at the same time.

The hectic legislative pace of the last couple of months may ease off a bit in the coming weeks.

With Republican leaders striving for mid-June adjournment if possible, the word has gone out to committees that legislation should be well on the way soon if it is going to complete the process at all.

Consequently, the chairmen are concentrating their efforts on the things labeled "must." And when the chips are down, a lot of items which previously have that label may lose it.

This means less time will be spent in late-hour committee meetings and more time will be devoted to floor action.

Even so, it is considered a toss-up whether the mid-June deadline will be met. A lot of observers think the end of that month is more realistic.

Postage Due

The budget battle being the major issue of the 1961 session, Sen. Donald C. Steiner, R-Canton, has made some humorous mileage out of a letter he received from Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. It was stamped "4 cents postage due."

He says he considered sending the chief executive a collect telegram congratulating him on his economy program, but instead mentioned it to DiSalle one evening when they met on the Senate floor.

Replied the governor later: "If the Republicans cut any more money out the budget, they'll get all their letters 'postage due.'"

He Found Out

That brings to mind an incident reported the other night by a spectator at a Senate Finance Committee hearing on the general appropriations bill.

Administrative personnel traditionally are extremely respectful toward the chairmen of the legislative groups who consider their money requests.

According to the story, a spokesman for an administrative agency was subjected to considerable questioning by a member of the committee about the money asked for.

-:-

AT THE END of the integration, the witness leaned over and inquired:

"What is your name, sir?"

"Deddens," came the reply in clear and icy tone. "W. H. Deddens."

The witness reportedly glowed in pained embarrassment and removed himself from the scene.

Deddens, 25-year legislative veteran from Cincinnati, is chairman of the committee.

Editors Hit Need For Censorship

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) says "It is the consensus of the organized newspaper groups and wire services that no censorship of any kind is imperative at the moment.",

Felix R. McKnight, executive editor of the Dallas Times Herald, made this report to the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Association Sunday.

McKnight and other newspaper executives recently discussed with President Kennedy the President's comments about publication of classified information.

"Kennedy challenged the American press with the responsibility of protecting the national security. The American Press has accepted this challenge and will perform in the best interests of the country," McKnight said.

Woman, 42, Charged In Cleveland Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police have arrested a 42-year-old Olmsted Twp. woman in connection with the $9,000 holdup of the Peoples Savings & Loan Association last Thursday. They said she may have driven a second getaway car.

Two masked men, carrying guns, pulled the holdup and got away. But less than 15 minutes later, police stopped a car, arrested one man and recovered $8,810. Since then, five other men and two women have been held for questioning about the holdup and possibly related robberies by a gang.

Reminder Given On Coverage Of Household Staff

While most workers and self-employed people are having earnings credited regularly to their Social Security accounts, this does not apply to some, notably household workers, William J. McCauley, Social Security district manager, said today in Youngstown.

Many household workers in Mahoning and Columbiana Counties are not receiving the credits they have earned, he said.

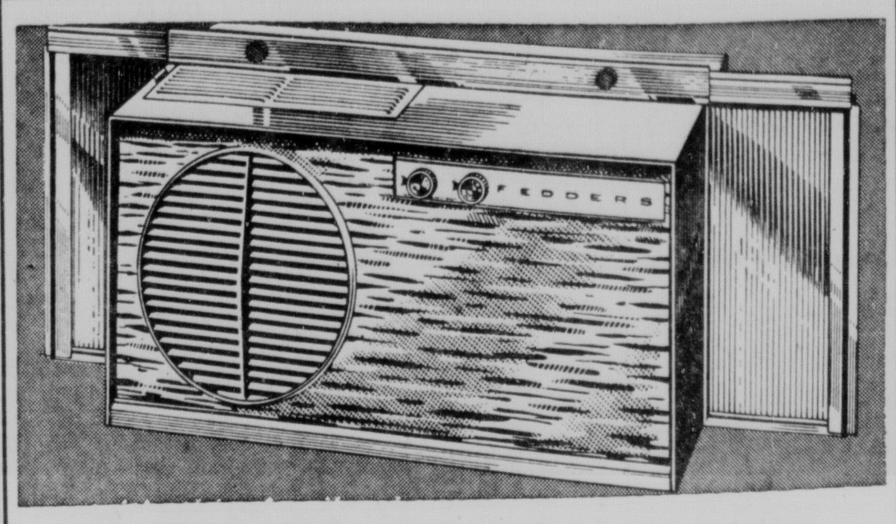

Although household employment has been covered by the law since 1951, many household employers do not know that they must report the wages of their part-time employes, he said.

McCauley pointed out that the earnings of part-time household employes must be reported the same as employes in labor and industry. A household employe who is paid at least $50 in cash wages during a calendar quarter by one employer — as little as $4 a week for a three-month calendar quarter of the year — is covered by Social Security. Her employer is required to report her wages and pay the social security taxes due.

The Internal Revnue Service, in co-operation with the Social Security Administration, has designed a simplified procedure for reporting the earnings of household employees. Upon request, the Internal Revenue Service will put a household employer on the mailing list to receive the simplified self-mailer envelope on which to report the wages of her employes.

Serviceman Drowns

CAMP DRUM, N.Y. (AP)—The body of a Marion, Ohio, soldier was recovered from the Black River near here Saturday. Pvt. 1.C. Jerry L. Rousch apparently had drowned, the Jefferson County sheriff's office said as it identified the victim Sunday and reported it is continuing investigation. Rousch on temporary duty here but regularly assigned to Co. b, 2nd Battle Group, 60th Infantry at Ft. Devens, Mass., had been missing a week.
